"The State of California and the people thereof are hereby declared to have a primary and supreme interest in securing to the inhabitants and property owners within what is known as the "Coachella Valley" and adjacent lands, in Riverside County, California, the greatest possible use and conservation of, and protection from, the waters naturally flowing into said valley from the surrounding mountainous watershed and the greatest possible use of other waters available to said area, thereby assuring that the greatest productivity of the largest possible area may be accomplished and safely carried on within reasonable limits of economy.

Investigation having shown that conditions in the Coachella Valley are peculiar to that valley, it is hereby declared that a general law can not be made applicable thereto and that the enactment of this special law is therefore necessary for the proper distribution, use and control of the waters available for the valley and the protection of the valley from storm waters by the means herein provided and for elimination of duplication of governmental authority and securing greater economy of administration.

It is hereby found and determined that Coachella Valley County Water District is organized primarily for irrigation purposes and that Coachella Valley Storm Water District is organized for reclamation and protection purposes and the Legislature in enacting this act declares that it is proceeding in part under the authority expressly granted in section 13, Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California.

SEC. 2. Subject to the approval of the electors, as provided in sections 4, 5 and 6 of this act, Coachella Valley Storm Water District of Riverside County is hereby merged into Coachella Valley County Water District. The name of the surviving district shall be Coachella Valley County Water District. Except as in this act expressly provided, said surviving district shall be in all respects operated, managed and governed and its directors and officers shall be elected or appointed and its revenues shall be raised and expended as now or hereafter provided in the County Water District Act, approved June 10, 1913, as amended, and acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto. Said surviving district shall be deemed a public agency of the State.

SEC. 3. Said surviving district shall comprise all lands now included within said county water district. Lands may be added to said surviving district or excluded therefrom in any manner, and with the same effect, as now or hereafter

SEC. 4. The board of directors of said county water district and the board of trustees of said storm water district shall, not later than 60 days before the next takes effect, adopt like resolutions providing for giving a joint notice of an election to be held in said districts for the purpose of determining whether said districts shall be merged. Such notice shall state the purposes for which the election is to be held, describe the voting precincts, state the location of the polling place for each precinct, the name and position of each person appointed as election officer, the hours during which the polls will be open and the date on which the election will be held, which shall not be less than 30, nor more than 60 days following the first publication of such notice. Such notice shall be published in at least one newspaper of general circulation, published in each county water district, by three weekly publications preceding the election. Copies of such notice shall be in said storm water district, not less than 20 days preceding the election. Affidavits of publication and posting of such notice shall be filed with the secretary of the board of directors of said county water district and shall be open to the view of the performance of the acts therein stated.

SEC. 5. The board of directors of said county water district shall provide a ballot to be used at said election upon which the proposition to be voted on shall be submitted in substantially the following form:

Opposite said proposition shall be the words, "Yes" and "No" with a voting square opposite each.

Except as in this act expressly provided, the board of directors and officers of said county water district shall perform all necessary duties in connection with the holding of said election and determination of the result thereof. Said election shall be held, as nearly as may be, except as in this act otherwise provided, in accordance with the provisions of the County Water District Act, as amended, for the holding of special elections. This act shall be given a liberal construction, for the purpose of sustaining any and all proceedings taken hereunder.

SEC. 6. At the close of the polls each board of election shall at once canvass the votes and declare the result and shall forward to the secretary of the board of directors of said county water district all ballots, official election returns and a certificate showing the number of votes cast for and against the proposition. At ten o'clock a.m. on the Saturday next following said election the board of directors of said county water district and the board of trustees of said storm water district shall meet in joint session at the office of said county water district and shall jointly canvass the election returns as shown by said certificates. A certified copy of said certificate shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of Riverside County and shall impart notice to all interested persons as to the result of said election and the merger of said districts. Said certificate shall be final and conclusive evidence, in the absence of actual fraud, that all steps necessary for the merger of said districts have been duly performed and that said districts have been duly merged.

If the proposition to merge said districts shall not be approved by a majority of the votes cast in each of said districts, said officers of said districts shall so certify and the certificate shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State. A second election, called and held as herein provided, may be held not less than six months after the date of the first election, with like effect as such first election.

SEC. 7. The board of directors of said county water district may, at any time after the filing with the Secretary of State of the certificate provided for in section 6 of this act, bring an action in the superior court of Riverside County to determine the validity of the merger of said districts. Such action shall be in the nature of a proceeding in rem and jurisdiction of all parties interested may be had by publication of summons in three weekly issues of a newspaper of general circulation furnished in said county water district, such paper to be designated by said superior court. Jurisdiction shall be complete 15 days after the third publication of such summons as herein provided. Anyone interested may at any time before the expiration of said 15 days appear and by answer contest the validity of such merger. Such action shall be speedily tried and judgment rendered declaring such merger either valid or invalid. Either party may have the right to appeal to the Supreme Court at any time within 30 days after the rendition of such judgment, which appeal must be heard and determined within 60 days from the time the record on appeal is filed in said Supreme Court. The proceedings as to both trial and appeal shall conform substantially to the rules governing civil actions except as herein expressly provided. If no such proceedings shall have been brought by said board of directors, then at any time within 30 days after the filing with the Secretary of State of said certificate anyone interested may bring an action in said superior court to determine the validity of such merger. 804. Fresh pears shall be mature and average free from rotting, moth injury, mold, decay, black end, insected cuts, and skin bruises, and free from serious damage, due to hail, scab or other diseases, mild and brown spots, frost, codlin moth larvae or other insects.

Damage to any one part is not serious when it is caused by:

(a) Scab, unless the spots cover an aggregate area of more than one-fourth of an inch in diameter;

(b) Hail damage, unless it affects an aggregate area of more than one-fourth of an inch in diameter or is more than one-fourth of an inch in depth;

(c) Codlin moth larvae, unless it causes noticeable damage or holes between superficial, well healed codlin moth stings, are not present;

(d) Thrip mark, blister mite or other superficial blemishes caused by insects, unless more than ten per cent of the surface of the fruit is affected or there occurs a depression of more than one-fourth of an inch in depth;

(e) Other diseases, limb rubs, frost, bruises, or hard end, unless such defects cause a waste of more than ten per cent, by weight, of the individual fruit.

Not more than ten per cent of the pears in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half the container shall be allowed for any one cause. Pears will fail to meet these requirements only because of serious damage caused by hail, scab or insecting or conforming with this standard, if the container in which they are packed or packed or packed or packed marked, on the outside of one end thereof, in letters not less than one-half inch in height, with the words "hail marked."

Packed pears in any container shall be uniform in size which means in the case of pears which are two and three-fourths inches in diameter or larger, a variation of not more than one-half of one inch in diameter, when measured through the widest portion of the cross-section, between the pears in any one container; and in the case of pears which are smaller than two and three-fourths inches in diameter, a variation of not more than three eighths of one inch when so measured.

Bartlett pears shall not be considered mature unless at the time of passing the average pressure test of not less than ten representative pears of the lot does not exceed twenty three pounds. However, pears which at the time of passing show a yellowish green color, as indicated by the color chart prepared by the department, shall be considered mature regardless of the pressure test. The pressure test shall be determined by means of a fruit pressure tester measuring in pounds the force required to push a rounded plunger five-sixteenths of an inch in diameter into the flesh of the fruit to a depth of five-sixteenths of an inch, after the skin from the areas tested, but little of the underlying flesh, has been removed. Two such determinations are to be made on each specimen selected as a sample and the average of all individual readings from the sample shall be considered as the pressure test of the lot. Pressure test readings shall be made on opposite sides, and approximately at the widest portion of the cross-section of the fruit at right angles to the core. Sunburned or very highly colored areas shall be avoided in making pressure tests.

All containers of pears shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on one outside end: the name of the person who first authorized the packing of the pears, or the name under which such packer is engaged in business, together with a sufficiently explicit address to permit ready location of such packer; the name of the variety, if known, and when not known the words "unknown variety"; the size description when the pears are packed in the four basket crate or the count when wrapped and packed throughout, in straight side containers in uniform layers and rows.

In the case of the four basket crate the numerical description of the pack in the top layer of the baskets shall be used to designate size. When the count is used to designate the contents of the container a variation of four pears more or less than the number stated shall be allowed.

Pears, when packed, shall be in standard containers numbers 1A, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 26, 27 or 29A. Other size containers may be used if conspicuously marked on the outside of the end which bears any marks intended to describe the contents of such container, in letters not less than one-half inch in height, "irregular container."

Packed or loose unwrapped apples may be in other size containers, and wrapped apples may be in containers smaller than the half apple box, if these are conspicuously marked, in letters not less than one-half inch in height, "irregular container." Such marking is not required on open containers of apples which are not packed.

This act is hereby declared to be an urgent measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California and shall take effect immediately. Certain courts of justice in the State of California have sustained section 397½ of the Penal Code to have been repealed by the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and by the enactment of the "Wet-Legs Act" of the State of California by initiative on November 8, 1932. #### Urgency Clause.

SEC. 15. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall therefore go into effect immediately.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows:

In Sonoma County and in other portions of the State many persons are eager to form recreation districts under the act amended by this bill but under the act as at present are unable to undertake any work thereunder because of lack of authority to issue bonds. If this act is passed and takes immediate effect then work will start upon the various structures authorized by this act immediately thus relieving in part the unemployment which despite improved economic conditions still exists.

If this act does not take effect until ninety days after the adjournment of the session it will not be possible to construct swimming pools or other structures in time for the summer season of 1937 and the work may be delayed for over a year to the great detriment both to the people in the proposed recreation districts themselves and to the economic well being of the State of California as a whole.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, April 16, 1937.

To the Honorable Members of the Senate, Sacramento, California.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 993, being "An act to amend section 440 of the Political Code, relating to the issuance of warrants by the State Controller, and payment of claims against the State."

This bill was introduced by Senator Fletcher at the request of the Department of Finance, and is vetoed with the approval of the department. The necessary provisions of this measure will undoubtedly be included in another bill to come before the Legislature at this session.

For the above reasons and the fact that the present law provides the authority necessary for the transaction of the business in the Controller's office with safety, promptness and dispatch, I am withholding approval.

Respectfully submitted.

FRANK F. MERRIAM, Governor of California.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 38.

Relative to memorializing and petitioning the President and the Congress of the United States to include the Santa Maria River Flood Control and the Santa Ana River Flood Control projects in the National Program of Work Relief.

WHEREAS, California has one of the gravest unemployment problems in the United States, due to the fact that the State has become the haven of unemployed from every section of the country; and

WHEREAS, One of the most constructive methods of coping with the unemployment problem is the building of useful and necessary public works which will confer permanent and lasting benefits as well as afford immediate work relief; and

WHEREAS, California is in urgent need of the development, conservation and stabilization of its water resources to prevent the abandonment of thousands of farms and homes, and to avert tremendous financial losses; and

WHEREAS, The State of California has prepared a comprehensive coordinated plan for the progressive economic development of the water resources of the State, carefully formulated over a period of 14 years, which provides for the control of floods and salinity encroachment, the improvement of navigation, the conservation and stabilization of water supplies for municipal, irrigation, industrial and mining uses, and for the generation of electric power; and

WHEREAS, The Santa Maria River Flood Control, the Mojave River Flood Control and the Santa Ana River Flood Control projects are most essential to the State of California; and

WHEREAS, These projects are ready for immediate construction when funds are made available for such purpose; and

WHEREAS, The construction of these projects will enable many thousands of people to sustain themselves by their present means of livelihood; and

WHEREAS, A greater degree of flood protection in these two river basins is highly desirable; and

WHEREAS, The construction of these projects will give employment to thousands of workers now unemployed, not only in California but throughout the Nation, thereby relieving unemployment in many branches of industry, particularly in the heavy manufacturing industries in the East and Middle West; and

WHEREAS, The public interest, welfare, convenience and necessity require immediate provision for adequate financing of these two projects; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly and Senate of the State of California, be it That the State of California through its Legislature recommends the Santa Maria River Flood Control, the Mojave River Flood Control and the Santa Ana River Flood Control projects to the President and to the Congress of the United States as of first and prime importance to the State of California, and respectfully requests that adequate funds be made available for immediate construction of the projects thereby conferring lasting benefits upon the people of the State of California, and affording substantial unemployment relief, all in a manner conforming admirably with the splendid program initiated by the President of the United States to speed national recovery; and be it further

Resolved, That the Governor is requested to transmit copies of this resolution to the President and to the Vice President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to the Senators and Representatives of the State of California in the Congress.

In these intrastate trades and industries there is widespread unemployment and economic distress, and for the purpose of ameliorating such conditions it is necessary and desirable to authorize immediately the adoption and continuance of codes of fair competition applicable to such trades and industries in the various cities, cities and counties, and counties of the State as provided in this act."

"(1) Whenever (a) an agreement shall have been, or shall hereafter be, entered into between any reclamation district of this State and the United States of America, or any department or agency thereof, for the refunding of bonds of such district, which agreement shall provide for the issuance of refunding bonds of such district aggregating in principal amount a sum less than the principal amount of the bonds to be so refunded and for the creation of a reserve fund for the purpose of paying installments of principal or interest of such refunding bonds whenever, by reason of delinquencies in the payment of calls or otherwise, the amount in the bond fund is insufficient to pay such installments, and (b) the unpaid principal amount of the assessment or assessments securing the outstanding bonds to be refunded is, or upon the carrying out of the plan for refunding provided in such agreement will be, in excess of the principal amount of the bonds secured by such assessment or assessments and then outstanding (including any bonds authorized to be issued and based upon such assessment or assessments but not yet issued), the board of trustees may by resolution declare that such excess (or part thereof) of the assessment or assessments shall be called from time to time for the purpose of creating a reserve fund. The moneys in such reserve fund shall be used for the purpose of paying installments of principal and interest, or either thereof, of any outstanding bonds secured by such assessment or assessments, whenever by reason of delinquencies in the payment of calls or otherwise the amount in the bond fund shall be insufficient to meet such installments of principal and interest, or either thereof, on any January 1st or July 1st, as the case may be. If there shall be on hand in the bond fund a sum derived from an assessment or assessments upon which said bonds so to be refunded pursuant to such agreement have been issued by such district, which sum is in excess of the amount required for the payment of all installments of principal and interest due or to become due within six months upon all bonds secured by such assessment or assessments and then outstanding, the board of trustees may by resolution direct that such excess of the bond fund, or such part thereof as they shall deem advisable, be set apart for the purpose of creating a reserve fund for the purposes above stated. No reserve fund shall be created under this section unless the unpaid principal amount of the assessment or assessments securing the bonds to be refunded pursuant to such agreement is or will, upon the carrying out of the plan of refunding in such agreement, be in excess of the principal amount of all bonds secured by such assessment or assessments and then outstanding (including any bonds authorized but not yet issued); and no call for the purpose of creating such reserve fund shall be made until after the United States, or department or agency thereof, shall have accepted not less than fifty (50) per cent of the refunding bonds proposed to be issued under such plan.

The county treasurer shall be authorized to invest any moneys in the reserve fund in bonds of the United States or of the State of California. Any bonds thus purchased and held in such reserve fund may from time to time be sold by the county treasurer and the proceeds temporarily reinvested in bonds as above provided. Sales of any bonds thus purchased and held in the reserve fund shall from time to time be made by the county treasurer in season so that the proceeds may be applied to the purposes for which the reserve fund was created.

(2) Whenever the reserve fund in this section above referred to shall be depleted in whole or in part by reason of payments made therefrom as herein provided, the county treasurer shall call such part of the principal of such assessment or assessments, (not exceeding, however, the amount by which the unpaid principal amount of such assessment or assessments shall be in excess of the principal amount of bonds secured thereby) as may be necessary in order to restore such depletion. Such call shall be made at the time prescribed by section 3480 for making the next call for the payment of principal or interest of said bonds after the reserve fund shall have been so depleted; provided, however, that the board of trustees may, in their discretion, direct that such restoration be effected over a period of not exceeding three (3) years next after the reserve fund shall have been so depleted, in which case not less than one third of the amount of such depletion shall be restored during each of such three (3) years."

principal and interest then due or to become due within six months thereafter upon bonds secured by such assessment or assessments, be applied to the payment of bonds secured by such assessment or assessments which bonds shall otherwise be canceled; provided, however, that no such interest shall be given as application made, unless the unpaid principal amount of the assessment or assessments securing such bonds shall be in excess of the principal amount of bonds secured by such assessment or assessments and then outstanding (including any bonds authorized but not yet issued)."

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL.

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 28, 1937

Honorable George J. Hatfield, President of the Senate,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

SUBJECT: ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 1177, AS AMENDED MARCH 31, 1937

MR. PRESIDENT: You ask whether or not Assembly Bill No. 1177, as amended March 31, 1937, is an appropriation bill within the meaning of that provision of section 34 of Article IV of the State Constitution which declares that "until the Budget Bill has been finally enacted neither house shall place upon final passage any other appropriation bill, except emergency bills recommended by the Governor, or appropriations for the salaries, mileage and expenses of the Senate and Assembly."

It is our opinion that this bill, as amended March 31, 1937, constitutes an appropriation and is not an appropriation bill within the language of the Constitution above quoted.

While it is a fact that in section 18 of the act for aid to the indigent, as added by this bill in its present form, there appear the words "the State shall advance and pay to the county" moneys in certain amounts according to a certain formula, and a somewhat similar clause appears in section 20, also added to said act, it does not follow that any money of the State is to be made available for the expenditure.

Particular attention is directed to section 15 of the bill, which expressly provides that:

"The provisions of this act providing for payments or advances by the State are not intended to and do not constitute an appropriation of money for such payments. Such payments or advances shall be made only in the event that moneys are made available therefor by another provision of law."

It is our opinion, therefore, that this bill may be placed upon final message prior to the enactment of the Budget Bill without violating the provisions of section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel.
By LAWRENCE G. ALLAN, Deputy.

LGA/DS

Senate Joint Resolution No. 21.

Relative to memorializing Congress not to abandon the present plan of mineral development.

WHEREAS, Recent press reports carry the announcement of a proposal on the part of the Secretary of the Interior, that the present United States Mining Laws, under which location and discovery is the basis of the right to mining and to acquire ownership to mining claims, be abandoned, and a Federal leasing system substituted therefor; and

WHEREAS, This proposal gives much concern to the States whose mining activities owe their beginnings, and in large part their growth, to the prospectors, who, urged by the promise of a rich strike and the right to become owner of his land, braved the danger and endured the hardship of the hills; and

WHEREAS, The prospector is still an important, if not indispensable factor in the discovery of minerals, and will continue, if the incentive for his efforts be not withdrawn, to ply his arduous and perilous, but effective calling; and

WHEREAS, The enthusiasm of the investor class, who make big fortunes as a prospect willingly when he knows that title can be secured to such prospect, would be seriously impaired, if not destroyed, if a leasing system were substituted, and it is strongly believed that interest in mining development would suffer a serious blow; and

WHEREAS, Under a long distance leasing system, the advantages of subdividing leases to Federal control, costs incident to surveying, drawing of maps and the like would tend to discourage the transfer of mining claims to persons interested in their development, thus retarding development of the industry, because the lure of a rich reward to the prospector would be seriously dulled by the proposed change; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and Assembly of the State of California, jointly. That the Congress of the United States is hereby memorialized to refuse to abandon the present plan under which mineral development has progressed satisfactorily, or to change the present laws relating to discovery and location of lode mining claims, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President and the Vice President of the United States, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to the Secretary of the Interior, and to the Senators and Representatives of the State of California in Congress.

Unless said emergency is thus met, the State will suffer great and irreparable loss and be deprived of revenues needed to preserve the public peace, public health and public safety. #### Statement.

The following statement was read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

Statement of Senate Finance Committee on Recommendation of Adoption of Assembly Bill No. 500.

On January 14, 1937, in accordance with the Constitution, the Governor submitted his budget of expenditures for the coming biennium, and requested that appropriations be made in accordance therewith and caused Budget Bills to be introduced in both houses.

The Assembly struck from the Budget Bill submitted by the Governor all appropriations recommended by him for construction and improvements of prisons, hospitals and institutions of learning, and required that such constructions and improvements be made from the fund appropriated for relief. The effect of the Assembly action will be to require that the improvement of public institutions be carried on as relief projects with labor recruited from the relief rolls rather than as projects providing employment for labor generally.

The Assembly also diverted from the relief fund $497,500 for the Santa Barbara State College, which appropriation, if justifiable at all, should have been made by a special bill rather than by deducting it from the relief fund.

This committee is opposed to the action of the Assembly in diverting the relief funds and in requiring that public institutions be improved and constructed as relief projects. The relief fund should be maintained and preserved solely as an emergency fund for relief of those who are out of employment, together with their dependents, so that they may be provided with the common necessities of life during such time they are unable to obtain employment.

It is the conclusion of this committee that public institutions should be improved and constructed in the regular course of business so that the labor necessary for such purposes can be made available to all citizens at the prevailing wage scale as well as make it possible for those on relief to be shifted from relief to the regular channels of employment.

From information now available it appears that $48,000,000 will be required during the coming biennium for the relief of those now or who will be out of employment, and this fund should not be jeopardized by earmarking or allocating any part or portion of it for any other purpose.

While the Senate might itself amend the bill and restore it to its original form, this would require that it go back to the Assembly for concurrence, which might and probably would result in an unnecessary prolongation of this session and cause unnecessary economic and financial loss to the State. The people of the State are demanding, and have a right to demand, that the Legislature complete its business and adjourn at the earliest possible time. We feel constrained to respond to this demand and expedite adjournment. This can best be done by the immediate adoption of the budget, leaving to the Governor the matter of eliminating or reducing any and all allocations from the relief fund made by the Assembly, and reducing or eliminating any other increase he deems unjustifiable, and relying upon the members to provide by special appropriation bill, such additional sums as may be necessary for the improvement and construction of institutions, and other necessary purposes.

In adopting the Assembly's bill without amendment, the Senate is not to be deemed as approving the Assembly's disbursements from the relief fund out of approving its action in striking out the items recommended for permanent improvements and constructions.

Explanation of Vote.

The following statement, offered by Senator McGovern, was ordered printed in the Journal:

I voted against the budget in the Finance Committee for the same reasons I voted against it in the Senate.

SEC. 5. Section 15 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 15. Any district organized under this act may from time to time, as hereinafter provided, incur a bonded indebtedness to pay the cost of acquiring, constructing or completing the whole or any portion of any utility or works referred to in this act, or for acquiring any works, lands, structures, rights or other property necessary or convenient to carry out the objects, purposes or powers of such district.

Whenever the board of directors of any such district shall, by resolution passed by vote of two-thirds of all its members, determine that the public interest or necessity demands the acquisition, construction or completion by the district of any public utility or utilities referred to in this act, or any part thereof, or any lands, lands, structures, rights or other property necessary at least to carry out the objects, purposes or powers of such district, the cost of which shall be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of such district, it may at any subsequent meeting of said board or directors determine that the submission of the proposition of incurring a bonded debt for the purpose set forth in said resolution, to the qualified voters of such district at any election held for that purpose, provided, that propositions for incurring indebtedness for such purposes or objects or purpose may be submitted at the same election. The resolution passed shall recite the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred, the estimated cost of the utility, works, lands, structures, signs or other property proposed to be acquired, constructed or completed, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and the sum of interest to be paid on said indebtedness, and shall fix the date on which such election shall be held, the manner of holding such election, and the voting fee of agents incurring such indebtedness, and in all particulars not recited in the resolution, such election shall be held as provided by law for holding general elections in such district; provided, however, that if the rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall not exceed four and one-half per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, the rate of interest need not be recited in said resolution, but in its enactment the board of directors may recite in said ordinance a higher rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness, not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, which rate, when so recited, shall not be extended to the issuance of bonds for such indebtedness.

Said ordinance shall be published once a day for at least seven days in some newspaper published at least six days a week in each district, or once a week for two weeks in some newspaper published less than six days a week in each district, and one insertion each week for two succeeding weeks shall be a sufficient publication in such newspaper published less than six days per week. In districts where no such newspaper is published, such ordinance shall be posted in three conspicuous places therein for two succeeding weeks. Notice of each election must be given. It shall require the votes of two-thirds of all the qualified voters of such elections to authorize the issuance of the bonds, and, provided, however, that, if the number of votes of the qualified voters voting at such election to incur the indebtedness for the purposes specified, the board of directors of such district shall have no power or authority within six months after such election to call or order another election for incurring any indebtedness for the same purpose, construction or completion of improvements or property, substantially the same as that provided in such prior election, unless a petition signed by at least fifteen per cent of the qualified electors of such district is presented upon the said number of names, one therein for all candidates for Governor at the last preceding election at which a Governor was elected be filed with the board of directors of such district, requesting that said proposition, or a proposition substantially the same, be submitted at an election to be called for the submission of such proposition and to be held in accordance with the provisions of this act. The bonds so authorized shall mature serially in amounts to be fixed by the board of directors; provided, that the payment of said bonds shall begin not later than ten years from the date thereof and be completed in not more than fifty years from said date. Said bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the board of directors of the district determines, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars, nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars, and shall be payable on the day and at the place or places fixed in said bonds, and with interest at the rate specified therein, which interest shall be payable semi-annually. The board of directors may provide for the call and redemption of any or all of said bonds on any interest payment date prior to their final maturity at not exceeding the par value thereof and accrued interest plus a premium of not exceeding one per cent upon the principal amount of said bonds, in which event a statement to that effect shall be set forth in the ordinance calling the election, and the call price fixed by the board of directors shall be set forth on the face of the bond. Notice of such redemption shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the district or if there be no such newspaper printed and published within the district then the publication shall be made in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the county in which the said district or any part thereof is situated, the first publication of which shall be at least thirty days prior to the date fixed for such redemption. After the date fixed for such redemption, interest on said bonds thereafter shall cease. Said bonds shall be signed by the president of the board of directors of the district or by such officer thereof as the board of directors shall, by resolution adopted by a two-thirds vote of all its members, authorize and designate for that purpose. They shall also be signed by the treasurer thereof, and be countersigned by the secretary thereof. The coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and be signed by the treasurer by his lithographed or engraved signature. All such signatures and countersignatures, except that of the treasurer, on said bonds may be printed, lithographed or engraved. In case any of such officers whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of said bonds to the purchaser, such signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if they had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds. Said bonds may be issued and sold by the board of directors of the district as they determine, but for not less than their par value. The proceeds of said bonds shall be placed in the district treasury to the credit of the proper fund, and shall be used exclusively for the objects or purposes for which said bonds were voted.

No municipal utility district shall incur an indebtedness for public works which shall in the aggregate exceed twenty per cent of the assessed value of all the real and personal property of such district; provided, however, any indebtedness which has been incurred for the construction and operation of a public utility, where the revenue from said utility for three years or more next preceeding has been sufficient to pay the interest and principal due on any bonds issued for its construction or acquisition, in addition to the cost of operation and maintenance, shall not be counted and included in ascertaining the limit of indebtedness.

The board of directors of such district shall, at the time of fixing the general tax levy and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect annually each year until said bonds are paid, or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of such district set apart for that purpose to meet all sums coming due for principal and interest on said bonds, a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on said bonds, and also such part of the principal thereof as shall become due before the time for fixing the next general tax levy; provided, however, that if the maturity of the indebtedness created by the issue of bonds be made to begin more than one year after the date of the issuance thereof, said tax shall be levied and collected at the time and in the manner aforesaid annually each year, sufficient to pay the interest on said indebtedness as it falls due, and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for district purposes, and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other district taxes are collected, and be used for no other purpose than the payment of said bonds and accruing interest.

In lieu of a resolution passed as hereinbefore provided by its board of directors, proceedings for the issuance of bonds for the purposes in this section provided may be initiated by petition of the qualified electors of such district.

Whenever any petition or petitions, each signed by electors of the district equal in number to fifteen per cent of the qualified electors of such district, computed upon the total number of votes cast therein for all candidates for Governor at the last preceding election at which a Governor was elected, shall be presented to the board of directors of said district asking for the acquisition, construction or completion of the whole or any portion of any utility, or works referred to in this act, or for acquiring any works, lands, structures, rights, or other property necessary or convenient to carry out the objects, purposes or powers of such district, and also asking that a bonded indebtedness be incurred to pay for the cost thereof, then it shall be the duty of the secretary of the district to immediately proceed to examine and verify the signatures of such petition or petitions, and to certify the result of such examination to the board of directors. If the required number of signatures be found to be genuine, the secretary shall transmit to the board of directors an authentic copy of such petition or petitions without the signatures thereto. Upon receiving the petition or petitions with the certificate of the secretary stating that it or they contain the required number of signatures, the board of directors shall formulate for submission to the electors of the district at a special election called for that purpose the proposition of incurring a bonded debt for the purposes set forth in said petition, and thereafter the said election and all things and proceedings with reference to the said bonds and the issuance thereof shall be conducted and performed in the same manner as if the proceedings had been initiated by resolution of the board of directors of said district as hereinbefore provided. In its discretion the board of directors may defer the calling of said election until the next general election to be held in the district in order that the same may be consolidated therewith.

Any election called for the submission of any question or proposition under the provisions of this section, may be held separately, or may be consolidated with any other election authorized by law at which the qualified voters of such district are entitled to vote; provided, however, that in the event any such election called pursuant to the provisions of this section is consolidated with any other election, the provisions of this section setting forth the procedure for the calling and holding of the election called pursuant to the provisions of this section, shall be complied with, except that the ordinance calling such election need not set forth the election precincts, polling places and officers of election, but may provide that the precincts, polling places and officers of election shall be the same as those set forth in the ordinance, notice or other proceedings calling the election with which the election called pursuant to the provisions of this section, is communicated, any shall refer to such ordinance, notice or other proceedings by number and title, or by other definite description.

Sec. 6. Section 15c of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 15c. Whenever the board of directors shall by resolution passed by a vote of two-thirds of all its members determine that the refunding of the debt, or any portion of its bonded indebtedness will be of advantage to the district, said board may refund such bonded indebtedness in any manner, direct and indirect, refunding bonds of the district therefor. The refunding bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding the current rate on the refunded bonds, and shall mature serially in amounts to be fixed by the board of directors, provided that the payment of said bonds shall begin not later than one year from the date thereof and be completed in not more than forty years from said date. Said bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the board of directors determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars or of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars, and shall be payable on the day and at the place or places fixed in said bonds, with interest at the rate provided herein, which interest shall be payable semi-annually. The board of directors may provide for the call and redemption of any or all of said bonds on any advance payment due prior to their fixed maturity or put at option at the face value thereof and accrued interest plus a premium of not exceeding five percent over the principal amount of said bonds, and the call price fixed by the board of directors shall be set forth on the face of the bond. Notice of such redemption shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the district, or if there be no such newspaper printed and published within the district then the publication shall be made in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the district or within the county in which the said district or any part thereof is situated, which shall be at least thirty days prior to the date fixed for such redemption. After the date fixed for such redemption, interest on said bonds thereafter shall cease. Said bonds shall be issued by the president of the board of directors of the district or by such officers thereof as the board of directors shall by resolution adopted by a two-thirds vote of all its members authorize and designate for that purpose. They shall also be signed by the treasurer thereof and be countersigned by the secretary thereof. The numbers of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and be signed by the treasurer by his lithograph or engraved signature. All such signatures and countersignatures, except that of the treasurer, on said bonds may be printed, lithographed or engraved. In case any of such officers whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officers before the maturity of said bonds to the purchaser, such countersignatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if they had continued to office until the delivery of the bonds.

Said bonds may be issued and sold by the board of directors of the district as they determine but for not less than their par value.

The proceeds of the sale of such refunding bonds shall be placed by the treasurer of the district to the credit of the "Refunding fund" and shall be applied first to the purchase, or retirement at not more than par and accrued interest, of the call price, of the bonded indebtedness for which said refunding bonds shall have been issued. In lieu of selling such refunding bonds and using the proceeds of such sale to purchase or retire the bonds to be refunded, the board of directors of the district may exchange refunding bonds at not less than par and accrued interest for the bonds so refunded.

Whenever such outstanding bonds shall be refunded, they shall be surrendered to the treasurer of the district, who shall proceed to cancel the same by endorsing on the face thereof the number or numbers the refunding shall have been effected (whether by exchange or purchase) and the amount for which so purchased, if any) and by perforating through each bond and each coupon attached thereto, the word "canceled" together with the date of cancellation.

All moneys which shall remain in said "Refunding fund" after all outstanding bonds which were proposed to be refunded therefrom have been taken up and canceled, shall be paid into the sinking fund of such district and become a part thereof.

The issuance of said refunding bonds shall not be considered as the incurring or increase of an indebtedness within the meaning of the provisions of section 12, subdivision eighth, or section 15 of this act, or of any other provision of this act.

The board of directors shall provide for the levy and collection of taxes to pay the principal and interest on said bonds and to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal of said bonds on or before maturity in accordance with the provisions of section 15 of this act.

The provisions of section 15b and 16 of this act shall apply to such refunding bonds except that the board of directors may cause refunding bond validation proceedings to be brought within sixty days from the date of the resolution authorizing the issuance of said refunding bonds.

Sec. 7. Section 21 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Bill read third time.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows: In several counties in this State, due to the economic depression, large tracts of land, amounting in the case of one county to 50 per cent of the property in the county, have become so hopelessly delinquent that there is no hope of such property ever being redeemed. The remaining property in such counties can not bear the fiscal burden of government thereon, and the result is that the functions of government are seriously impaired and unless the delinquent property is immediately returned to the tax rolls, it will be necessary to close the schools and to seriously impair other functions of government in such counties.

The delinquent taxpayers in many cases, relying on the provisions of the exemption, are willing to waive the provisions of section 381711 of the Political Code, since such section can not help them. In order that such counties may receive some property to the tax rolls before it is too late, it is necessary that the counties be given immediate permission to exempt from the delinquent taxpayers above mentioned the waivers of the protection of section 381711.

declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

Bill read third time.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of section 1, Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and it is deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace and safety that this law shall go into immediate effect. The following is a statement of facts constituting such necessity:

Due to the agricultural depression which has extended over a period of several years, many landowners within reclamation districts have been unable to meet their installment payments owing under assessments with the result that funds were not provided to meet the maturing interest and principal of the district's bonds. To solve this situation, the Congress of the United States enacted the Emergency Farm Mortgage Act of 1933, as amended, authorizing and empowering the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to grant loans to districts so in distress and many districts in California have secured grants of loans from Reconstruction Finance Corporation pursuant to said act; that before completing said loans, Reconstruction Finance Corporation frequently requires that districts receiving such grants shall provide and set up reserve funds to insure the prompt payment of principal and interest to accrue under said loans, and that reclamation districts are not now authorized or empowered to comply with such requirements. The Legislature hereby expressly declares that the welfare of the State requires that relief be afforded to the landowners in these districts by permitting reclamation districts to take advantage of the said Emergency Farm Mortgage Act of 1933, as amended, and to conform to the requirements of Reconstruction Finance Corporation in setting up and providing an adequate reserve fund.

Report.

REPORT OF SPECIAL SENATE COMMITTEE ON INVESTIGATION OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Mr. President and Honorable Members of the Senate of the State of California:

Your Special Senate Committee on Investigation of School Buildings, appointed pursuant to the following resolution found on page 21 of the Senate Daily Journal on May 22, 1935, has the honor to submit this, its report.

Resolution.

"WHEREAS, Chapter 59, Statutes of 1933, provides for the safety of design and construction of public school buildings under the supervision of the Division of Architecture, in the Department of Public Works; and

WHEREAS, The application of said act has worked hardship on the school authorities, taxpayers, and pupils; and

WHEREAS, There have been many complaints as to the operation and administration of this act; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the President of the Senate appoint a committee of three members to investigate the operation and administration of said act; and be it further

Such items of expense are to be paid to the persons entitled thereto upon certification to the Controller by the chairman of said committee."

Pursuant to the authority gained under the resolution hereinbefore set forth, the following members of the Senate of the State of California were appointed by the President thereof:

Senator J. C. Garrison,
Senator William F. Knowland,
Senator Thomas P. Scollan.

The committee held its first meeting in Room 312, Wheeler Hall, University of California, Berkeley, California, Monday, January 6, 1933. The committee was organized and the following were elected as officers of the committee:

Senator J. C. Garrison, Chairman.
Senator Thomas P. Scollan, Secretary.

Notices were sent to various school officials, to the California Trustees Association, to the Division of Architecture, and to other interested persons, and publicity was given to the meeting in the newspapers of northern California requesting that all those interested in the problems before the committee appear and present their views. The activities of this committee were definitely limited because of the small appropriation made for paying expenses of this investigation and were further restricted due to the ruling of the Controller based upon an opinion of the Attorney General that the committee could not use any of the funds available for the purpose of employing expert engineers, clerks or even stenographic assistance. It was not until late in the year 1936 that the California Supreme Court in the case of Phillips vs. Riley, 6 California Reports, Second Series, page 414, held that investigating committees of the State Legislature could expend monies for the purposes which your committee desired. It was therefore decided that this committee, instead of embarking on a thorough investigation of the important problems set out in the resolution, would conduct our investigation more in the order of a discussion of the issues by those persons most affected. Consequently, the committee applied to the State Division of Architecture for stenographic assistance which was very kindly granted and asked the State Architect and his engineers to be present at each public meeting of your committee. Careful notes were taken of the discussions which were presented by school officials to the administration and verification of the facts. The State Architect, at the request of the committee, after contacting the various trustees or school officials who were having difficulty, in an effort to meet out a mutually satisfactory solution and to determine what changes, if any, were necessary and necessary in the Rules and Regulations of the Division of Architecture relating to the safety of design and construction of public school buildings in California. A most representative group of citizens interested in school problems at Berkeley, California, were present at the Berkeley meeting, and at the meeting held by your committee in Los Angeles, November, 1936, a most representative group of those citizens of southern California interested in school problems were present. A complete stenographic report of the testimony before your committee has been filed with the Secretary of the Senate.

At the meetings of your committee a very friendly and cooperative spirit prevailed and the different phases of the problems arising out of the passage of this act were commonly known as the "School Building Fifthfold Act" were frankly discussed. It early developed that the problem was five-fold in character:

First. Personal liability of school trustees or (elected) school board members.

Second. Repair or reconstruction of a portion of a school building.

Third. A board of appeal to which a school board could appeal in case of disagreement with the Division of Architecture on the approval of plans and specifications.

Fourth. Financial assistance to districts financially unable to build or rehabilitate their school buildings in accordance with plans approved by the Division of Architecture.

Fifth. Dividing the State into earthquake zones.

Personal Liability of School Trustees or Members of Boards of Education

Upon this one issue, it was the unanimous opinion of those who attended before your committee that after having done everything which could be reasonably possible to do to comply with the provisions of the law in regard to safety of design and construction of public school buildings as provided by Chapter 10, Sections 41 to 44, the trustees or members of the boards of education should not be held personally liable for injuries or damage to property in case the members of the district failed or failed to provide a means of financing the necessary construction or reconstruction of its school buildings. It appeared that in many school districts the members of the governing board were afraid to apply to the Division of Architecture for construction of their school buildings because of the personal liability involved. The trustees for many school districts have advised their governing boards that should they have their school buildings examined by the Division of Architecture and the buildings found to be defective, that would constitute construction notice to the governing boards of the faulty condition of the school buildings and thereby make them personally liable for injury to persons or property by reason of the use of the buildings. Many of the trustees expressed doubt as to the wisdom of an attempt to provide the necessary funds to rehabilitate their buildings in accordance with the high standards as fixed by the Division of Architecture.

This situation has resulted in two very serious conditions in this State. In many school districts, the trustees have simply accepted the issue by not having those buildings examined and thereby not knowing whether or not their buildings are safe for the occupancy of school children. The other condition which is equally serious, is that some of our most able school trustees have refused to run for reelection because they feel that they can not afford to subject their entire personal fortunes to this unfair personal liability.

To meet this situation, your committee has had prepared and introduced at this session of the Legislature, Senate Bill No. 654 which provides that, whenever an examination of the structural condition of any school building or buildings of a school district has been made by the Division of Architecture, State Department of Public Works, or any licensed structural engineer or architect, and the buildings are found to be unsafe for use, the governing board may, if it has not sufficient funds for the repair, reconstruction or replacement of its buildings, submit the entire problem to its electorate at a special election. At this election, there shall be submitted to the qualified electorate of the district, three propositions, to-wit:

1. Authorization of bonds of the district in amount sufficient to provide funds for the repair or reconstruction or replacement of such buildings.

2. Authorization of increase of the maximum tax rate of the district.

3. Abandonment of such building or buildings and the placing of the children in tents or other temporary structures.

In case all three propositions on the ballot fail to carry, then, in that event, the members of the governing board of the district are relieved of their personal liability for injury to persons or damage to property by reason of the use of the buildings. The bill does not, however, relieve the school district itself of any liability imposed by law.

We believe this bill to be a most fair and important measure and can not too strongly recommend its favorable consideration by the Legislature at the present session.

Repair or Reconstruction of a Portion of a School Building.

When this act first became effective, as is the case with all new regulatory measures, considerable doubt and misunderstanding arose as to how far the Division of Architecture should go in requiring an existing building to be made earthquake resistant in case of damage to a portion of a building or necessary repairs to an existing building. The Division of Architecture naturally was solicitous to perform the duties imposed on the division by the passage of this act to the full extent of the division's responsibility. Therefore, the division started out to follow the policy of requiring an entire building to be made earthquake resistant before approval would be granted to the plans and specifications for reconstruction or alterations or additions to an existing building. This policy, of course, resulted in severe hardship on many school districts. The question arose as to whether, under the law, the Division of Architecture was charged with the responsibility or had the authority to require that the entire building be made safe before approving plans and specifications for a portion of the building. This question was submitted to the Attorney General and on October 7, 1933, an opinion was rendered reading in part as follows:

"I am therefore of the opinion that the only thing to be considered in the case of reconstruction work such as you refer to is that work, and that it would not be necessary for the remainder of an existing school building to be remodeled or rebuilt to conform to the rules of your Building Code.

I assume, of course, that this new reconstruction work would not result in an increased hazard with reference to the old building.

The act was not intended to apply to anything other than new work."

More discussion was had before your committee on this phase of school building problems than upon any of the others mentioned. A multitude of questions arose which were straightened out in the manner heretofore mentioned in this report, that is, by the Division of Architecture's engineers or representatives contacting the various school officials and explaining the provisions of the act and the application of the Rules and Regulations. Many of the questions, however, necessitated changes in the Rules and Regulations. Based upon the testimony presented to your committee and upon the conferences held with public school officials and with members of your committee, the Division of Architecture has completed and adopted a new set of Rules and Regulations which your committee feels will solve the problems involved in this phase of the issue without the necessity of an amendment to the existing law. This plan is advisable for the reason that the Rules and Regulations are more flexible and can be changed from time to time by the Division of Architecture to meet changing conditions without the difficulty and loss of time in having the law amended by the Legislature. A copy of these Rules and Regulations is attached to this report and will be known as Exhibit A.

It would seem advisable, however, to call attention here to certain changes in the Rules and Regulations which your committee feels will adequately solve many of the problems presented to us in this investigation, not only with regard to repair or reconstruction of a portion of an existing building, but as to the application of the act to the entire problem of approval of plans and specifications of school buildings, as contemplated by the act.

RECONSTRUCTION, ALTERATIONS, ETC. Section 4. Due to confusion on the part of school districts and others concerned regarding the breadth of application and interpretation of the Field Act in connection with the words "reconstruction, alteration of, or addition to" it was deemed advisable to differentiate between these words and the word "maintenance." It does not appear to be the intent of the act to require approval for ordinary upkeep, etc. Consequently, it was felt that it would be entirely within the spirit of the act to liberalize the act with reference to this type of work by giving specific exemption to it.

DEMOLITION. Section 5. There was considerable doubt especially in connection with the razing of buildings or building units damaged by the Long Beach earthquake of March 10, 1933. Your committee and the Division of Architecture have taken the view that where the work consists entirely of demolition that such work is not included in the act which applies to new buildings or to reconstruction, alterations or additions. It was not felt that where a structure was taken down and removed that any question was raised with relation to safety of occupants and that consequently such work was not intended to be covered by the act. The definition is given under section 5 and a statement made under section 26 to the effect that it is not necessary to secure the approval of the Division of Architecture for demolition.

PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE. Section 11. Many persons have been receiving such reference to the requirements of the act that the architect, structural engineer and the contractor shall each make a written statement showing of his own personal knowledge that the work has been performed with material used and building in accordance with the approved plans and specifications. This section has been particularly strong on the part of the architect and the structural engineer. The Attorney General, on the other hand, has been insistent that such a statement must be made without qualification, since the Legislature at the time of enacting the bill, were insistent that it was of primary importance that every statement be had that the specifications be honestly followed with such reference to materials and workmanship and that accordingly the certification must be made without qualification with reference to the words "personal knowledge." So much emphasis has recently been experienced in obtaining satisfactory statements that it was deemed advisable to secure the assistance of the Attorney General's office and formulate a definition of the word "personal knowledge" for insertion in the Rules and Regulations so that there may be no misunderstanding of what is meant especially in view of the fact that certain individuals have been giving merely an inchoate and severe interpretation to these words.

APPLICATION. Section 12. The last sentence has been added to the original section permitting an application and a maximum fee of $500 to be paid where there are a number of identical buildings, provided the total cost of the work does not exceed $10,000. As a result of damage done by the earthquake of 1914, it was necessary to provide temporary shelter for thousands of school children in the southern part of the State. The Attorney General's office (Opinion 8790) at that time that where a number of identical buildings are to be constructed from the same plans and specifications and one application may be filed and a maximum fee paid of $500, provided that the costs are identical and that the cost does not exceed $10,000. This ruling has been of great value to the school districts concerned in removing the possibility of having to pay exorbitant fees.

See last sentence on page 14 for change of the Division of Architecture by 1926 act to the fee to be paid and the conditions under which an application is permissible.

IDENTICAL BUILDING. Section 13. It was necessarily assumed that at the time of approval of plans and specifications for a given school building, or shortly thereafter, consideration was given to a plan which might be required for identical building. The purpose of the change on page 5 has been the willingness of the State to give approval to an application for an identical building without requiring preparation of separate copies of plans and specifications.

WITHDRAWAL OF APPLICATION. Section 16. It occasionally happens that shortly after application has been filed and plans and specifications submitted to the Division of Architecture together with the prescribed fee, that the school board desires to withdraw the said application, either to make modification thereof, to make a better change in lay out or type of construction, or for some other reason. The Division of Architecture is accordingly going as far as it can under the law by providing the fee provided that the money has not already been turned over to the State Treasurer and check was actually started, the division not making such transfer of funds until it does actually start to check the plans and specifications.

DIVISION OF SCHOOLHOUSE PLANNING. Section 17. The State laws setting up the Division of Schoolhouse Planning, State Department of Education, provide the conditions under which plans must be submitted to the Division of Schoolhouse Planning and the kind of approval required of it. In spite of the fact that the Division of Architecture not only has been calling the attention of those concerned to the necessity of securing such approval and has at the same time called the attention of the Division of Schoolhouse Planning to the fact that such work was contemplated, there seemed to be considerable confusion, on the part of certain architects as to the necessity of first submitting the plans to the Division of Schoolhouse Planning. It was accordingly thought advisable to emphatically state in the Rules and Regulations of the Division of Architecture that approval must first be secured from the Division of Schoolhouse Planning before plans and specifications can be checked by the Division of Architecture. Many of the rural school districts are poor and unable to finance either construction or the preparation of plans and specifications. The Division of Schoolhouse Planning has, so far as its finances permitted, been giving service to those districts both in the matter of the preparation of plans and supervision of construction work. The Division of Architecture has, from time to time, assisted the Division of Schoolhouse Planning by furnishing the necessary structural information for incorporation in the plans and specifications. It was thought advisable to make a very definite statement in the Rules and Regulations so that school districts will have knowledge of the service provided.

RECONSTRUCTION OF A PORTION OF A BUILDING. Section 19. In accordance with Opinion No. 8815 of the State Attorney General's Office, the Division of Architecture has been giving approval to plans and specifications submitted in connection with reconstruction of a portion only of a building. In doing such work of reconstruction or strengthening, it is not necessary to do anything at all with reference to the remainder of the building, although it is required that the particular portion or unit for which work is done, must itself be made safe and self-contained with reference to strength. The section in question is more or less self-explanatory.

BUILDING SEPARATION. Section 20. Not much trouble has been experienced in constructing new buildings in accordance with Chapter 59, Statutes of 1933. On the other hand problems in connection with reconstruction work, especially where the building is found to be in a hazardous condition have been most difficult. School boards are frequently confronted with the problem of adding an addition to an unsafe existing building but without necessary funds to have the work done that is necessary to make the existing building entirely safe. By making a structural separation between the new and the old work, closing the gap with a flexible or brittle membrane of such nature that stresses will not be transferred across the separation, it is possible to consider the addition as a distinct and separate unit and to give full approval to such work without equivocation. Numerous additions have been so built without violating the intent of the act and thereby giving greater freedom of action to the various school boards in question.

SCHOOL GARAGES. Section 21. To require, rural school districts especially, to have plans and specifications prepared by a certificated architect or structural engineer and then submit them to the Division of Architecture for approval, in the case of smaller relatively unimportant buildings, would work an undue hardship financially. Fortunately the Attorney General rules (See Opinion No. 9217) that these buildings do not come under the act provided they are not used by pupils and teachers as such. These buildings have usually been of light construction, such as wood studs. Speaking generally, the resulting structures have been fairly safe and the results accomplished worthwhile to the school districts.

TEACHERAGE. Section 22. The Attorney General further liberalized the act on February 7, 1936 (see Opinion No. 10507) by ruling that the act is not applicable to a building used exclusively for a dwelling for not more than two families.

NONSTRUCTURAL ALTERATION. Section 23. It frequently happens that a school district desires to make alterations to existing units or buildings by shifting partitions, rearranging rooms, providing a heating plant or other work not involving structural change in the buildings. Since nothing is to be done to the structural elements of the building, the State has ruled that approval will be given to submitted plans and specifications without doing any reconstruction work and the district at the same time assured that such material as is actually furnished and work done will be strictly in accordance with approved plans and specifications and that accordingly the district will get its dollars' worth.

FIRE SAFETY. Section 24. This section is self explanatory and grew out of a ruling of the Attorney General that the words "The written approval of such buildings as to safety of design and construction does not refer to fire and panic safety." Whether or not such safety is provided in school construction is left entirely optional with the local school district. The Division of Architecture has no authority in the matter.

CONDEMNATION. Section 25. Due to misunderstanding on the part of many, that the Division of Architecture has authority to condemn an unsafe building and prohibit its use, it was thought advisable to make a clear statement as to the lack of authority of the division, either to condemn a building or to issue permit for its use.

PARTIAL CONSTRUCTION. Section 27. While the act provides that contracts can not be let and work started before approval, provided the work in question comes under the act, there is nothing in the act which states how quickly the work must be done or the length of time in which it must be completed. Consequently and in order to still further assist the school districts in meeting their construction problems, your committee and the Division of Architecture has felt that it is entirely within the spirit and intent of the act to permit school districts to carry on work only as rapidly as their financial or other limitations may permit. The Division of Architecture has nothing to say with reference to when or how the school buildings may be used. This condition makes it possible, if it is so desired or necessary, that work proceed to any point short of full completion and later continue intermittently or continuously as may be possible or desired. Meanwhile, whether or not any use is made of the building is entirely optional with the school board in question.

RESUBMISSION OF PLANS. Section 28. It is necessary in connection with most of the school construction projects to make revision to plans and specifications after contracts have been let and work has been initiated. This paragraph distinctly points out that no additional fee will be charged over and above the final total cost of the building in connection with the submission of such revisions. This is quite pertinent in view of the fact that the law requires that the building be built structurally in accordance with the approved plans and specifications and it is only by submitting proper change orders that the required verification can be made upon completion of the work and at the same time provide the school district with the full knowledge of what is being done. Incidentally these change orders have been the means of securing in the aggregate a comparatively minimum in building costs since in those cases where the construction is suitable or merely inferior to the grade or type specified, proper readjustment is made to the price paid for the difference in cost.

LABORATORY REPORTS. Section 32. These have been extremely valuable in testing laboratory reports because of the numerous analyses and tests made in concrete, aggregation, reinforcing steel, and generally, the small and numerous tests pertinent building projects. This matter was covered in the circulation of the Division of Schoolhouse Planning with the result that the Marine, Stone, and other Laboratories of the State Department of Education noted the situation in their communications to the value of tests but at the same time indicated those agencies were in extremes or against permitting a body of study or more that gave no actual progress. It was thought advisable to make a specific statement about this matter in the rules and regulations.

SCHEDULE OF PROGRESS REPORTS. Section 34. The Board and Commission are originally written to neglect the time of their progress reports. The basis of completion of certain items of work. This provision is made very flexible by providing alternate methods of reporting progress that may be made progress report even be made for some time.

Regulation No. 5. The regulation is essentially the same as the previous one. An additional paragraph is added stating that in those cases where the Board is in the formulation of Appendix "A" and states that Appendix "A" will be made promptly available to the public.

Regulation No. 6. Regulation No. 6 is an advisory board and nothing is an Advisory Board to the Division of Architecture. The members of the board will be noted that the board is subject to the power of the Division of Architecture. The call of its chairman. The board may make recommendations on any matter presented to it or regarding which it desires information. Its plan and regulations are required to be submitted annually to the Advisory Board for adoption.

Appeal may be made to the Division of Architecture or Board of the Advisory Board in case of disagreement with the final decision of the Division of Architecture in connection with the administration of the act.

The regulation is self explanatory and gives one of a number which shall have made that there be some board of appeal to which appeal may be made from the rulings or acts of the Division of Architecture with authority to review and change or actions and freely make report and recommendation thereon.

Board of Appeal.

Many witnesses appearing before your committee, particularly members of the California School Trustees Association, expressed the belief that there should be a Board of Appeal to which a school district might appeal in case of disagreement and the Division of Architecture might not agree with the recommendations and specifications submitted. Much thought and consideration has been given to this question by your committee. Obviously, it would seem that in the past the policy of providing means of appeal for local administrative action should be some body to which a school district could appeal in case of disagreement with the Division of Architecture. On the other hand, as pointed out by the Division of Architecture, this plan would entail considerable confusion and uncertainty in the administration of the act as well as some expense to the State in maintaining such a board. It is felt by the Division of Architecture that the Advisory Board as provided in Regulation No. 6 will meet this requirement. Whether such a board of appeal should be established by law is a matter of policy to be decided by the Legislature and one upon which your committee does not wish to make recommendations at this time. To accurately decide whether or not such a Board of Appeal is necessary would entail the employment of numerous engineers and architects to check the detailed standards and engineering and architectural requirements adopted by the Division of Architecture and set out in Appendix "A" of their Rules and Regulations. Without funds to enable such an engineering and architectural services as would be required to take upon Appendix "A" and also without definite authority in the constitution or laws, such a decision cannot be made. Your committee feels that this matter should be left to the Legislature and will of the Legislature.

Financial Assistance to Weaker Districts.

Testimony before your committee shows that many school children in this State are now attending school in tents, temporary structures, or substantially unsafe buildings, because of the fact that the school districts are financially unable to comply with the requirements of the law and reconstruct these buildings destroyed or seriously damaged by the earthquake of March 10, 1933. It was suggested that some plan should be worked out to give assistance to such school districts as are unable to provide adequate housing to the children. The authority granted by the resolution creating this committee does not give us the necessary authority to investigate and make recommendations upon this very serious and important problem. Neither does your committee feel that we are authorized to report upon the question of whether or not the requirements of the Division of Architecture are unnecessarily severe and costly to the districts. To make such a recommendation, as heretofore set out, would involve employment of experts far beyond the capacity of the funds provided for this committee. In making this investigation, your committee has been solicitous to keep within the authority of the resolution, that is, "to investigate the operation and administration of said act."

Zoning the State.

Some of those appearing before the committee were in favor of some plan whereby the State could be divided into earthquake zones with respect to varying earthquake hazards and that different standards for safety of construction and design of school buildings be set up for each zone. Opinions of witnesses were based upon the fact that no serious earthquake damage has occurred in the interior valleys of California and therefore it was an unnecessary hardship upon the taxpayers in the interior of the State to require them to build school buildings capable of resisting the lateral forces set up by the severe earthquakes which have occurred along the coast. Testimony before your committee, including opinions of most eminent geologists, indicates that the entire State of California is a potential earthquake zone. It was shown that practically every section in the State is near enough to a fault line to make it possible to have an earthquake of more or less severe intensity in almost any district in the State. Handicapped as your committee was, with practically no funds with which to employ expert assistance, it was impossible for us to employ geologists of sufficient experience and ability to make a state-wide investigation and report upon this particular phase of our problem. Therefore, we can only reply upon the information and testimony given before the committee which indicates that any plan of zoning the State with respect to earthquake hazards, would be impractical.

Conclusion.

The resolution creating this committee requires "that said committee report the results of said investigation, together with its recommendations as to the needed changes in the law to the Senate; and make suggestions as to needed changes or improvements in the administration of said act to the Governor." Due to the fact that your committee and the Division of Architecture have agreed upon the changes in the Rules and Regulations as heretofore set out in this report and which we believe will solve most, if not all, of the questions raised as to the administration of the act, we have no further suggestions for improvement in the administration to make to His Excellency, the Governor. Those changes in Rules and Regulations together with the various opinions from the Attorney General, heretofore mentioned in the report, also make unnecessary certain legislation proposed at the fifty-second session of the Legislature affecting approval of plans and specifications for the portion of a building. Therefore, the only recommendation your committee has to make to the Senate at this time as to needed changes in the law is that Senate Bill No. 654 be given favorable consideration and approval by the Legislature and the Governor thereby relieving the governing boards of school districts from personal liability arising out of conditions over which they have no control and then only after they have done everything within their power to correct existing conditions.

Your committee wishes to express its sincere appreciation to the Division of Architecture, State Department of Public Works, to the California School Trustees Association, and to all those who appeared before your committee for the splendid spirit of cooperation and their sincerity of purpose in attacking the problem before this committee. We believe that much constructive work has been done and are gratified that due to the splendid cooperation of Mr. George B. McDougall, State Architect, and Mr. C. H. Kromer, Principal Structural Engineer of the Division of Architecture, much progress has been made without drastic changes in the law.

Respectfully submitted,

SPECIAL SENATE COMMITTEE ON SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

CHAPTER 59, STATUTES OF 1933.

Incorporated in these Rules and Regulations are the various administrative rulings made by the Division of Architecture since the enactment of the above act.

together with opinions of the Attorney General, whose assistance required has been liberalized.

Particular attention is called to the definition where the Division of Architecture has formulated with the advice and approval of the Attorney General's Office in connection with "personal knowledge" required in the certifier statement appearing on the progress report. The Attorney General's Office at the same time has advised that the form of statement should be made a definite certification. It is hoped that the definition of "personal knowledge" will clear up any uncertainty which might previously have existed in making certifier statements as to the progress of the work.

An entirely new regulation, Regulation No. 6, has been added whereby an Advisory Board to the division is set up. The regulation covers the qualifications of the members of the board, how and for how long assembled, and defines the board's functions. The board adopts its own rules of procedure and reports upon the aid of its chairman. The board may make independent reports or make of any matter presented to it or regarding where it desires information. All rules and regulations are required to be submitted promptly to the Advisory Board for adoption. The board also acts as a Board of Appeal to make appeal upon its own direction if so desired in case of disagreement with the design and appearance of the Division of Architecture in connection with the administration of the act.

The Rules and Regulations will have to be read so that to appreciate and have full knowledge of how the act is being administered. They will be printed in pamphlet form just as soon as the opinion of the Legislature with reference to the act is more clearly indicated.

March 15, 1937.

Foreword.

On March 10, 1933, at 5.55 in the afternoon, an almost earthquake shock occurred of sufficient intensity to shatter poorly constructed buildings for a densely populated district in the southern part of the State and to severely injure the stability of all but the better built buildings elsewhere. All windows of two public school buildings were actually shivered when not completely shattered. The initial earthquake was followed by a series of smaller shocks did not further damage. If the time of the initial shock had been but a few hours earlier the loss of life among the school children would have been appalling.

Realizing that much of the loss and damage would have been avoided if the buildings had been properly constructed and in order that our school children be safeguarded against the possibility of death from poorly building structures, the State Legislature, then in session, promptly enacted a law, Chapter 10, Statutes of 1933, that vested the Division of Architecture of the State Department of Public Works with the authority and responsibility, under the Senate's power of the State, to pass upon and approve or reject plans and specifications and to require the construction of all public school buildings extend to specifically methods, thereby making mandatory the preparation of adequate designs and specifications and the safe construction of such public school buildings. The law became effective as an emergency measure upon signature by the Governor on April 10, 1933.

An amendment to the law was enacted by the 1935 Legislature whereby the exemption in the case of reconstruction or alteration of an addition to any school building was increased from $1,000 to $1,000. This amendment became effective on and after September 16, 1935.

An annotated copy of the law as amended to date is attached as an addenda to these rules and regulations.

PREPARATION OF PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS.

The act provides that all plans and specifications must be prepared by a registered architect holding a valid license under the State act regulating the practice of architecture or by a structural engineer who has been authorized to use the title structural engineer by the Board of Registration for Civil Engineers.

APPROVAL OF PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS.

Plans and specifications must be approved before the beginning of construction and such inspection and supervision will be made by the Division of Architecture during the progress of construction as may be found necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of the act.

FEES.

An application for the approval of plans and specifications for a new building or for the reconstruction, alteration of, or addition to any school building must be accompanied by a filing fee as provided for in the law based on the estimated total cost of the building exclusive of furniture and technical service.

INSPECTION.

The political subdivision within the territorial jurisdiction of which any school building is constructed, reconstructed, altered or added to must provide adequate and continuous inspection as provided in the law.

PROGRESS REPORTS.

Construction work may start upon approval of plans and specifications, and as provided in sections 29, 30, and 31 hereof. At intervals as the work progresses certified reports shall be made to the Division of Architecture, upon forms prescribed by the division showing that the work, during the period covered by the report as well as the materials used and installed, have been performed and furnished in every particular in accordance with and in conformity to the approved plans and specifications.

LOCAL REGULATIONS.

Nothing herein stated shall be construed to exempt the school board and its agents, or the contractor, from the provisions of local ordinances, regulations or building codes with reference to the issuance of building permits, inspection of construction, and such protective and regulating measures as may locally be provided for.

No rules or regulations shall, however, be construed to deprive the Division of Architecture of its right to exercise the powers conferred upon it by law, or to limit the division in such enforcement by the act as is necessary to secure safety of construction and the proper administration of the law.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

Rules and Regulations in pamphlet form will be furnished upon request. Copies of Appendix "A" (Adopted February 8, 1937) including an annotated copy of the law will be furnished for a price of $1 per copy, or in exchange for a copy of Temporary Regulation No. 5, Appendix "A" dated April 10, 1933.

Rules and Regulations.

REGULATION No. 1.

GENERAL DEFINITIONS.

Definitions.

The words defined in this regulation shall have the following meaning for the purposes of these rules and regulations:

Division of Architecture.

Section 1. Division of Architecture. The Division of Architecture shall mean the Division of Architecture of the State Department of Public Works acting through the agency of the State Architect who is the chief of the division. Approval, disapproval, orders and certificates of approval will be issued directly by the Principal Structural Engineer of the Division of Architecture who shall act for the State Architect and the Division of Architecture in carrying out the provisions of the act.

School Building.

Section 2. Building. The term building shall mean and include any school building used or designed to be used for elementary or secondary school or junior college purposes and constructed, reconstructed, altered or added to by the State or by any county, city, city and county or other political subdivision or by any school or junior college district of any kind or character whatsoever within the State.

Reconstruction.

Section 3. Reconstruction, Alterations or Additions. The words reconstruction or alteration or addition to shall be taken to include only that portion of the building or building unit for which plans and specifications have been submitted for approval.

Maintenance.

Section 4. Maintenance. The term maintenance shall mean and include ordinary upkeep or repair work such as minor replacements, repainting, replastering, and reshingling, or any work carried on in connection with an existing structure where the estimated cost does not exceed $4,000. It is not necessary to secure approval for such work.

Demolition.

Section 5. Demolition. The term demolition shall mean the entire razing or destruction of a building or building unit.

Nonstructural Alterations.

Section 6. Nonstructural Alterations. The words nonstructural alterations shall mean only such alterations as do not affect the safety of the building and that do not change, in any manner, its structural elements.

Separation.

Section 7. Separation Between Buildings. The words separation between buildings shall mean the space between buildings or units of a building.

Temporary.

Section 8. Temporary Buildings. The words temporary buildings shall mean small single classroom units of wood frame or metal frame and exterior intended to be used during an emergency or for a restricted length of time.

School Board.

Section 9. School Board. The words school board shall mean (a) those who shall men and include district boards of trustees, city boards of education and other appropriate school authorities for schools any school building now or designed to be used for elementary or secondary school or junior college purposes or to be constructed, reconstructed, altered or added to by (b) State or by any county, city and county or other political subdivision or by any school or junior college district of any kind or character within the State.

The Act.

Section 10. The Act. The words the act as used in these Rules and Regulations shall refer to the Safety of Buildings and Construction of Temporary Buildings Act, Chapter 59, Statutes of 1933, and any subsequently enacted by the Legislature.

Personal Knowledge.

Section 11. Personal Knowledge. The phrase personal knowledge as used in section 4 of the act as applied to the architect, the structural engineer and the contractor, is interpreted by the Division of Architecture to mean that personal knowledge which is the result of such general supervision of the work as is required and accepted of and from architects, structural engineers and engineers in the superintendence of the construction of buildings and in construction from the continuous personal superintendence of the engineer which is maintained at the site during the progress of the work. The manner of personally supervising to obtain the facts is required and requires the continuously personal knowledge may be chargeable with knowledge. The interpretation of the phrase personal knowledge, by the Division of Architecture, as it applies to the engineers, is that he must have actual personal knowledge that the requirements of the plans and specifications are being carried out, obtained by his personal and continuous observation of the work of construction at the site in all stages of the progress.

All progress reports required by section 4 of the act must be made in the forms furnished by the Division of Architecture and the contractor shall be without qualification.

REGULATION No. 2.*CONSTRUCTION OF NEW BUILDINGS.*RECONSTRUCTION OR ALTERATION OF OR ADDITION TO EXISTING BUILDINGS.*Filing of Application.

Section 12. Application. Before adopting plans and specifications for the reconstruction or alteration of or addition to any building, the total estimated cost of which exceeds $4,000, or for the construction of any new school building, the school board must submit application for and secure from the Division of Architecture written approval of said plans and specifications. Such application shall give the name of the architect and/or structural engineer in responsible charge of the work, as well as such other pertinent information as is required herein. A separate application in duplicate for each school building shall be filed with the division upon Form No. 1 which will be furnished upon request. In the case where a number of identical buildings are to be constructed from the same plans and specifications such as temporary tent units, only one application is required provided that the total cost of the units does not exceed $10,000.

Preparation of Application.

Section 13. Preparation of Application. When an application is filed, it shall be accompanied by the plans and specifications, the structural design computations, and the estimate of cost and a fee, the amount of which shall be as set forth in section 28. All such plans shall show the use or occupation of all parts of the buildings and give such other pertinent information as may be required. The plans shall consist of the completed small and large scale, properly dimensioned, working drawings which must be executed in such a manner and in such sequence as to make them entirely legible and clear cut. The plans shall be preliminary and accurately cross-referenced and general notes shall, preferably, be given on one sheet of the drawings. Where plans include several buildings in a group, arrangements shall be made to have plans for each building shown on separate drawings except that details common to all buildings of the group need not be repeated. All drawings and specifications are to be complete and thoroughly checked as to design and dimensions before submission to the Division of Architecture.

Number of Copies.

There shall be furnished two complete sets of prints on blueprint cloth or blueprint paper, of the entire small and large scale working drawings, also two copies of the complete specifications for all branches of the work, these specifications to be either typewritten or printed. After all required changes, if any, have been made on the original drawings and the required changes, if any, have been incorporated in the original specifications, the entire original drawings, together with two complete sets of blueprints of the drawings either on blueprint cloth or blueprint paper and at least three copies of the specifications with changes incorporated shall be forwarded to the Division of Architecture. The division will then mark its approval on the corrected original drawings and on one copy of the corrected specifications and will return them to the applicant. If the mark of approval is desired on additional copies of the approved specifications these should be submitted at the same time as the original. No application will be approved until the completed drawings have been filed, or within 10 days from the date of filing of the application.

Identical Building.

When an application is filed for the construction of a school building proposed to be constructed identical with a building previously constructed after approval of plans and specifications by the Division of Architecture, the application for such approval shall be accompanied by two sets of blueprints on blueprint paper, together with two copies of the specifications. These plans and specifications shall give the name and the location of the school where the building is to be constructed, such information being stamped or printed thereon in any way that the architect or structural engineer may elect to make this information a part of the approved plans and specifications. It will not be necessary to resubmit structural design computations.

Plans and specifications shall be of sufficient clarity to indicate the nature and character of the work proposed, and to show that the law and these regulations will be complied with.

Plans.

Plans shall be drawn to a scale sufficiently large with an adequate number of cross sections and structural details as a scale large enough to clearly show the pertinent features of the construction and properly dimensioned so that the drawings may be readily interpreted and studied.

Specifications.

Specifications shall describe in detail the methods to be used in performing each class of work and shall set forth the requirements for the various types of materials that will enter into the permanent construction. Where the safety of the structure during or after construction depends thereon, the sequence of construction operations shall likewise be set forth.

Design Data.

Computations, stress diagrams and other data necessary to show the correctness of the plans shall accompany the plans and specifications and shall contain sufficient descriptive notes so that the calculations for individual members can be readily interpreted. The following data shall be embodied in the computations and shall be clear cut and arranged in an orderly manner:

1. The computations shall be prefaced by a statement clearly and concisely outlining the basis of the structural design and indicating the manner in which the proposed building will resist horizontal forces and shall be sufficiently complete to establish definitely that the structure will resist the prescribed loads and forces.

2. The design vertical loads for floors, roofs, walls and columns shall be clearly stated; a summary made of floor areas and of the seating capacity of auditoriums, assembly rooms, balconies and similar areas; assumed values given of footing pressures or pile loads, as well as proposed ultimate strength of reinforced concrete and similar materials.

All plans shall bear the signature of the responsible architect and/or structural engineer. The signer of the plans and specifications will be held responsible regardless of who may have prepared the same.

Additional Data Required.

Section 14. Additional Data. Where unusual conditions occur such additional data shall be submitted as are or may be pertinent to the work. It may be required that the site be drilled or otherwise prospected, that the soil be tested to determine its bearing capacity and that other appropriate information be furnished as may be necessary.

Addenda and Change Orders.

Section 15. Addenda and Change Orders. It shall be illegal for any person to erase, alter or modify any line, figure or detail in whole or in part on any drawing or specification, whether the copies approved by the Division of Architecture or the original from which the copy or print was made. No deviation will be permitted from the terms of the application and the plans and specifications except by means of approved addenda and/or change orders.

Addenda are to be made only prior to the award of construction contracts and are to cover such changes from the prepared plans and specifications as are found to be necessary. Addenda must have the signature of the architect and/or structural engineer and must be approved by the Division of Architecture.

Changes from or alterations to the approved plans and specifications after the work has been initiated are to be prepared for the purpose of change orders. Change orders shall state the reason necessitating the change and shall have the architect's drawings appended where necessary. Approval must be given by the representatives of the Division of Architecture in the field as soon as changes where necessary in order not to delay the work but such changes shall be immediately confirmed by change order as above required.

All change orders shall be signed by the architect and in the architect's presence, in addition, change orders involving a change in the original contract price and or reduction in quantity or quality of materials and workmanship shall be countersigned by an authorized representative of the school district.

Return of Fee Paid.

Section 16. Withdrawal of Application. There is no provision in the act for the return to the school district of fees already paid; however, where request is made by the school board that plans and specifications together with the fee have been returned and the application submitted after plans and specifications together with the application and the promised fee have been submitted the applicant fee before checking has or could have been made, such request in permission may only be complied with. No portion of the fee can be returned after the plans have been examined and checking actually initiated by the Division of Architecture.

Approval of Schoolhouse Planning.

Section 17. Approval by the Division of Schoolhouse Planning. When approval of plans is required by law from the Division of Schoolhouse Planning, Department of Education, such approval does not constitute approval as to safety or construction with this act, and such approval is to be submitted to the architect provided by the Division of Architecture. Such approval must be received from the Division of Schoolhouse Planning prior to approval by the Division of Architecture. The Division of Architecture will cooperate and coordinate its activities with those of the Division of Schoolhouse Planning, its own primary the public interest and convenience without undue expense to the school district.

New Work.

Section 18. Plans for New Work. It is necessary in connection with preparing plans and specifications for new school buildings to provide subject of construction for the entire building in accordance with the minimum requirements of Appendix "A" or such a preliminary change is not possible or necessary or construction with proposed alternate methods or new materials or methods of construction.

Reconstruction.

Section 19. Approval for Reconstruction of a Portion of a Building. For reconstruction work, additions or alterations the school board may submit plans and specifications for the entire building or for a portion thereof but it may choose to do. If so desired, approval will be given to submitted plans and specifications for a portion of the building only, even though the remainder of the building is not known or found to be safe, provided the school's permission to do so will insure that portion of the building or building part the which plans and specifications have been prepared and submitted. Approval will however be given only for that portion of the work shown and required by the submitted plans and specifications. The remainder of the building may be used as the school's building, classrooms and such use is not subject to the approval of the Division of Architecture.

Certificates.

If examination is made by the Division of Architecture of the remaining portions of the building not covered by the submitted plans and specifications and they are found to be safe, unconditional approval will be given for the entire building and, upon completion of the work in accordance with the act and the rules and regulations of the Division of Architecture, a certificate will be issued stating that the work has been completed and that the building meets the requirements of Chapter 59, Statutes of 1933.

Building Separation.

Section 20. Separation Between Buildings. In order that a building or an addition to an existing building shall be considered as an independent structure it must be a distinct unit with a clear separation of at least six (6) inches.

When a separation is made between two parts of a building, both of which are to be constructed or reconstructed, then a separation based on the expected or calculated deflections under the assumed of seismic force is sufficient.

It is permissible to close the space or gap between buildings or parts of a building with a flexible or brittle membrane but the closure must be of such nature that stresses will not be transferred across the separation. The separation is primarily important above the exterior grade or ground surface and consequently it is permissible to extend the footings or footing walls across the separation.

Approval will be given for an independent separate unit without qualification providing that it complies with the requirements of the Division of Architecture.

Garages.

Section 21. School Garages or Similar Buildings. The act does not apply to buildings constructed by a school district for the purpose of, and used solely for, housing buses and minor mechanical equipment, and where such buildings do not provide facilities for either students or teachers or are not intended to be entered by them, as such, if such is the desire of the school board. If later it should appear that a school district knowingly took such action to circumvent the provisions of the act the responsible parties would necessarily be subject to the penal provisions of the statutes. Consequently, the Division of Architecture asks that a resolution be passed by the school board stating that the building is not to be used for school purposes and that no pupils or teachers, as such, will be permitted to use or enter the said building at any time.

Teacherage.

Section 22. A Teacherage or Dwelling. Where said building is not to be used by pupils or teachers, as such, but is to be used exclusively as a dwelling for not more than two families, it may be constructed without first submitting the plans and specifications to the Division of Architecture. A suitable resolution similar to that adopted for section 21 is requested.

Non-Structural Alterations.

Section 23. Non-Structural Alterations. In the event that only non-structural alterations, not affecting the safety of the building, are to be made, such alterations will be permitted without bringing the building up to the requirements of Appendix "A". However, where the cost of such work exceeds $4,000 application must be filed and the customary fee paid before permission can be granted for work to proceed. The work done and the materials used and installed must be in accordance with and in conformity to the approved plans and specifications without deviation, as required in section 4 of the act. Non-structural alterations should not be confused with maintenance. (See section 4 for definition of maintenance.)

Fire.

Section 24. Fire Safety. In accordance with an opinion from the Attorney General, the Division of Architecture is confining itself, with reference to fire hazard, to calling attention of the particular school authority concerned to the fact that approval of the plans and specifications under the act does not include approval as to fire and panic hazards.

The Attorney General's Opinion No. 9022 states that "the provisions of the act do not authorize the Division of Architecture to make requirements as to fire safety resisting materials and construction in the matter of school buildings."

If the school district concerned voluntarily complies with the limitations and the provisions of the Uniform Building Code adopted by the Pacific Coast Building Officials Conference, October, 1927, and as latest amended in so far as they may apply to fire and panic safety, the division will give approval of plans and specifications without qualification as to fire and panic safety.

Condemnation.

Section 25. Condemnation. The Division of Architecture has no authority under the act to condemn a school building, even though it may be known to be a hazard to safety, nor has the division any authority to either prevent the use of or to issue a permit for the use of any school building.

Demolition.

Section 26. Demolition. It is not necessary to secure the approval of the Division of Architecture for demolition. This exemption can not, of course, include those conditions where reconstruction is involved. Where the estimated cost of such reconstruction or alteration work exceeds $4,000 approval shall be secured from the Division of Architecture in accordance with section 12.

Where approval is desired, an examination will be made by a representative of the Division of Architecture, provided application is made for such approval. In the case of an emergency, immediate approval will be issued by the Division of Architecture provided the conditions so warrant.

Partial Construction.

Section 27. Partial Construction in Accordance with Approved Plans and Specifications. The school board may, as it desires, or as its financial limitations permit, either complete the work included in the approved plans and specifications or proceed with construction to any point short of full compliance with the said plans and specifications without doing all the work involved therein, and later, if it so desires, the school board may intermittently or continuously complete the work until full compliance is had. Such work as is done and materials furnished must necessarily be in full accordance with the provisions of the act and its amendments.

Upon completion, but not before, the Division of Architecture will issue its certificate of approval. The question of new fee may still remain in full entirely optional with the school board. The only obligation of the Division of Architecture is to supervise, as set forth in the act, any further construction that may be started at a later time.

Amount of Fee.

Section 28. Fees. Fees are required by section 2 of the act as follows: For the first $250,000, a fee of one-half of one per cent of the estimated cost, and for all costs in excess of $250,000 a fee of one-quarter of one per cent. If the actual cost exceeds the estimated cost by more than 10 per cent a further fee of one-half of one per cent of the amount by which the actual cost exceeds the amount of the estimated cost, will be imposed. Cost shall be taken to mean the total cost of the entire building exclusive of furniture and architectural and engineering services.

Below are examples of the amount of fee for construction requirements.

1. Estimated cost $20,000.

$$0.5\% \times $20,000 = $100$$

2. Estimated cost $500,000.

$$0.5\% \times $250,000 = $1,250$$

$$0.25\% \times $250,000 = 625$$

$$$1,875$$

3. Estimated cost $8,000.

$$0.5\% \times $8,000 = $40$$

Fee is $50, as this is the minimum charge.

Where actual cost exceeds the estimated cost the amount of final payment is to be as follows:

4. Estimated cost $50,000; actual cost $70,000.

Fee accompanying application:

$$0.5\% \times $50,000 = $250$$

Amount by which actual cost exceeds estimated cost:

$$$70,000 - $50,000 = $20,000$$

$$\text{Additional fee} = $20,000 \times 0.5\% = $100$$

Temporary Buildings.

A number of identical temporary buildings may be included under one application and the minimum fee, provided that the cost of the group of buildings does not exceed $10,000 and that the buildings are essential to public health, medical and construction. Where one group of buildings is not a temporary structure, or where there is any one building at a remote location from the other buildings, that would require a separate consideration of ground conditions, temporary supervision, etc., then these shall be submitted as a minimum fee for that group or single building as a separate and distinct requirement.

Resubmission of Plans.

No additional fee will be charged upon submission of revisions to the approved plans and specifications, provided that the entire matter is actually under construction having to do with the same building constructed on the same site. If the original plans are abandoned and the plans are specifications submitted for a new set of plans for a new project rather than for an identical building at which a second set of plans is for an essentially different building, it is necessary that a new application be filed and fee paid. This is regardless of the fact that the building may have the same name, be of the same general size, and situated at the same location for which the original application was made.

Start of Construction.

Section 29. Time of Beginning Construction. Construction work whether for a new building, reconstruction, alteration or addition, shall not be commenced until the school board has applied for and obtained from the Division of Architecture written approval of plans and specifications. Construction shall not be commenced until after the approval of the application but shall be commenced within one year after that date. If not commenced within one year the application will be void unless an extension of time has been allowed on a showing by the applicant of good and sufficient reason satisfactory to the Division of Architecture.

Notice of Start.

Section 30. Notice of State of Construction. The architect or structural engineer shall give the Division of Architecture written notification at least ten days before construction is to be started. If and as soon as a contract has been awarded, the architect or structural engineer shall furnish the Division of Architecture, in writing, with the name and address of the contractor, the contract price, and the date that the contract was let. The names and addresses of sub-contractors shall also be reported. This information shall be furnished upon Form No. 102 which will be supplied by the Division of Architecture when the application is approved. Notice shall be given to the Division of Architecture when excavation is completed, so that, if advisable, the nature of the foundation material may be examined by a representative of the division.

Inspection.

Section 31. Inspection of Construction. During the construction, reconstruction, repair, alteration of or addition to any school building structure the Division of Architecture as provided in the law shall make such inspection, investigations or examinations as may in its judgment be necessary or proper to secure enforcement of the act and conformity with the approved plans and specifications. If after any such inspection or investigation or at any time as the work progresses prior to the issuance of certificate of approval it shall be found by the Division of Architecture that modifications or changes are necessary to secure safety, such orders will be issued by the division for the revision of plans and specifications as may be found necessary. The school board shall provide competent, adequate and continuous inspection for any and all work of construction, reconstruction, alteration or addition, as required by law.

The act provides that inspection shall be made by an agency that is competent and that it shall be adequate and continuous. For the purpose of this regulation such an agent or agents shall be a person or persons not less than 25 years of age who has or have had at least three years experience in building construction work, one year of which has been in concrete construction, and shall be some person or persons not in the employ of the contractor. He or they shall act under the direct responsible charge of the architect or structural engineer who is responsible for the design and supervision of construction work and shall be acceptable as an inspector or inspectors to the Division of Architecture. The Division of Architecture may require such special inspection from time to time as may be found to be necessary.

Qualification and Duty of Inspector.

At least ten days prior to the time of starting construction work, the architect or structural engineer in charge of supervision of the work shall submit to the Division of Architecture the name or names of the person or persons whom it is proposed to have act as direct representative or representatives on the work, together with an outline of his or their experience and pertinent qualifications so as to afford the Division of Architecture ample opportunity of observing if said inspector or inspectors should not appear to be competent. It shall be his or their duty to see that the provisions of the plans and specifications regulating construction of the building as approved by the Division of Architecture are properly complied with and make semimonthly reports of progress of construction work to the architect and or structural engineer. A copy of each such report shall be sent to the school board and two (2) copies shall be sent to the Division of Architecture's headquarters office at Sacramento, except that for work in the southern part of the State, including San Luis Obispo, Kern and Inyo Counties, copies shall be sent directly to the Los Angeles office of the Division of Architecture. Semimonthly reports shall plainly state the name of the building, the school, and school district, and give the application number for the building. These semimonthly reports shall give pertinent information regarding the amount of work done and any unusual conditions or questions that may have arisen at the job. Failure, refusal or neglect to immediately stop the construction of any work which does not comply with the requirements of the approved plans and specifications or failure, refusal or neglect to immediately report any such violation to his or their employer and to the proper building officials and to the Division of Architecture shall constitute a violation of the act and be cause for the Division of Architecture taking such action in the premises as in its judgment may be necessary.

Job Plans.

There must be at all times during the construction of the building at least one blueprint set of approved plans and one copy of approved specifications, together with approved addenda and/or change orders on the construction premises.

Tests.

Section 32. Tests. Tests of material will be required as set forth in appropriate sections of Appendix "A"—safety of design and construction requirements for public school buildings in California. Two copies of all such reports shall be mailed to the Division of Architecture by the laboratory, addressed as required for semimonthly reports. Such reports shall be inclusive of all tests made, whether such tests indicate that the material is satisfactory or unsatisfactory. The Division of Architecture may, if it so finds desirable, require such additional tests as shall be deemed necessary. The report shall show that the tests were made under the responsible charge of a testing engineer, holding a license to practice civil engineering in the State of California; that the material or materials were tested in accordance with the provisions of Appendix "A" and the requirements of the approved specifications; and shall state whether the material or materials passed or failed to pass the above provisions and requirements.

Laboratory Reports.

Upon the completion of a project, or at regular intervals when requested, the testing agency shall send to the Division of Architecture a certificate report listing all of the tests which were carried on during the progress of the project and attesting that fact and that the tests were made in full compliance with approved specifications and Appendix "A".

Structural engineers and architects are urged not to have unnecessary tests made and to eliminate tests for unnecessary material, especially in construction work minor or unimportant work so that testing costs will be minimized.

Skilled Artisans.

Section 33. Qualifications for Skilled Artisans. Artisans engaged in specialized work shall be required to pass qualification tests as provided for in Appendix "A".

Progress Reports.

Section 34. Progress Reports. From time to time as the work progresses, the certificated architect or structural engineer in responsible charge, the inspector on the work and the contractor shall each make reports to the Division of Architecture, to be certified to by each upon a separate printed form or forms showing of his own personal knowledge that the work during the period covered by the report has been performed and materials used and installed, in every particular, as immediately with and in conformity to the duly approved plans and specifications and giving such detail statements of fact as shall be required. Where the design has been presented by a structural engineer but where construction is made under the direct responsible charge of the architect, progress reports shall be certified to by the structural engineer, as well as by the architect for that portion of the work provided by the design of the structural engineer who shall, as a part of his service to the architect, make general inspection of the work.

For reconstruction work primarily of a structural nature when plans and specifications are signed both by an architect and a structural engineer, progress reports for all of the structural work shall be certified to by the structural engineer and the architect need only submit a final certified progress report. However, progress reports at various stages of the work shall be certified to by the inspector and the contractor.

Certified progress reports shall be made periodically for the following designated states of completion of the buildings:

1. At completion of foundation work.
2. At completion of approximately one-half of the structural portion of the building.
3. At completion of the structural portion of the building.
4. At time of filing national completion of entire building ready to receive furniture and requesting a certificate of approval.
5. Special reports when information is required regarding special conditions or problems.
6. In lieu of the above schedule certified progress reports may be made at the time of completion of 25 per cent, 50 per cent, 75 per cent and 100 per cent, respectively, of the work involved in the project.
7. Only one certified progress report need be made for small buildings where the total cost does not exceed $10,000, upon completion of the work.

Completion of Work.

Section 35. Notice of Completion. Immediately upon completion of the building or reconstruction, alteration or addition the school board shall give notice to the Division of Architecture of said completion as above provided in section 34, which notice shall state the actual cost of the work. As soon thereafter as possible there shall be filed such supplementary data or descriptive matter as may be required by the Division of Architecture.

Approval Certificate.

Section 36. Certificate of Approval. Upon a finding by the Division of Architecture that the work has been done in accordance with Chapter 59, Statutes of 1933, and the Rules and Regulations of the Division of Architecture, and provided that all progress reports have been properly made out and received by the Division of Architecture and that no false statement has been found to be contained therein the Division of Architecture will issue a certificate of approval, stating that the requirements of the law have been fulfilled.

REGULATION NO. 3.

EXAMINATION AND REPORT OF EXISTING BUILDINGS.

Request for Examination.

Section 37. Request for Examination. Upon request of any school board or of at least 10 per cent of the parents having pupils enrolled in the school district as certified to by the county superintendent of schools, the Division of Architecture will make an examination and report on the structural condition of any such building. Whether or not such examination is requested is entirely optional with the district concerned, and consequently, in making such examination and report the Division of Architecture acts as the direct agent of the school district to whom the division makes its report direct and by whom it is guided in determining the extent and character of the examination made.

Application.

Section 38. Cost of Examination. Upon receipt of request for examination the Division of Architecture will furnish an application blank, Form No. 2 in duplicate, which shall be filled out by the applicant, supplying such information as is required. The possession of complete information by the Division of Architecture will greatly facilitate checking the adequacy of the design and the actual inspection of existing work and lessen the expense involved. An estimate of the cost of the examination and report will then be submitted to the applicant by the division.

Cost.

Upon completion of the examination and the submission of the report thereof to the school board, the Division of Architecture will submit a statement of the actual expense involved in the examination and preparation of report. The division requests that the funds necessary to cover said costs be set aside by the school district and that payment be made promptly to the Division of Architecture upon receipt of the statement of the expense involved.

Payment Waived.

Section 39. Payment Waived. The Division of Architecture may, upon recommendation of the State Director of Education, when it appears to the latter that the financial condition of the school district in which the building is located is such as not to permit of the expense involved in the examination and report, waive payment of expenses.

REGULATION No. 4.

ACCESS TO DOCUMENTS AND RECORDS.

Records.

Section 40. Records. The records pertaining to the supervision of the construction of school buildings by the Division of Architecture shall be public documents. No application or documents and reports will be allowed under any circumstances to be taken from the custody of the Division of Architecture but access to the same will be permitted.

REGULATION No. 5.

STRUCTURAL DESIGN AND MATERIALS AND DETAILS OF CONSTRUCTION.

Requirements for Design and Construction.

Section 41. Requirements for Design and Construction. In order to secure safety in building construction, good practice recommends that fundamental principles be observed and that definite requirements as to design and construction be set up. For the guidance of school boards and of architects and structural engineers in the preparation of structural plans and specifications and in order to secure uniformity of design and construction, Appendix "A" covering the structural design and materials and the details of construction has been adopted by the Division of Architecture as a basis for the approval of plans and specifications. The regulations contained therein have been taken largely from the Uniform Building Code, California Edition, as drawn up by joint committees of engineers, architects, contractors and building officials working in conjunction with the Uniform Building Code Executive Committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce. The Division of Architecture will amend this regulation from time to time as may be found advisable and as alternate or new methods and materials are proposed for inclusion therein. In addition, rulings will be made in interpretation of Appendix "A" and of the administration of the act as questions arise regarding the meaning of any section or item and such rulings promptly made available to the public.

Suggestions and criticisms by the Architects Associations, by structural engineers and architects in private practice and by the material interests, have been most helpful to the Division of Architecture in the preparation of the revised appendix. The complete painstaking study and suggested revisions made and proposed by the Structural Engineers Association of California have been especially valuable as have been the advice and criticism of seismologists and scientists connected with the Carnegie Institution of Washington at Pasadena, the California Institute of Technology, Stanford University and the University of California.

REGULATION No. 6.

ADVISORY BOARD TO THE DIVISION OF ARCHITECTURE.

Advisory Board.

Section 42. Advisory Board. The Director of the Department of Public Works, from nominations submitted by the State Association of California Architects and the Structural Engineers Association of California, has appointed an Advisory Board whose duty it is to serve in an advisory capacity to the Division of Architecture in connection with technical or structural matters and with reference to regulations and requirements pertaining to the substructure of the dam.

This board shall also hereafter act as a Board of Review to whom appeal may be made by school boards, architects, structural engineers or other interested parties in case of disagreement with the decisions, rulings or acts of the Division of Architecture. The said Board shall consist of eight (8) members appointed by the Governor and three (3) ex-officio members who are: the Chief of the Division of School and Planning of the Department of Education, the State Architect, and the Principal Structural Engineer of the Division of Architecture. Of the appointed members four (4) shall be laymen qualified structural engineers and two (2) shall be certified architects, two (2) structural engineers and two (2) certified engineers being resident respectively in northern and southern California. The appointed members shall serve at the pleasure of the Director of Public Works, but their appointments shall expire at the end of two years from the date thereof.

Procedure.

The board shall consider upon the merits of the questions presented whenever it may be necessary in the interest for the board to meet. The board shall adopt such rules of procedure as are necessary or proper. It is further the obligation delegated to it. The chairman of the board shall, on his discretion, receive suggestions from the board designate subcommittee to study and recommend to the board any technical subject or matter requiring which an independent review or further study is desired or regarding which appeal is made to the board from decisions or rulings of the Division of Architecture. The board members will be summoned from the type defined in section 2 of the act and their committee shall convene in attending meetings, but shall receive no compensation for their services.

The Division of Architecture after formulation and before final adoption of any new rulings or regulations will transmit the same promptly to the Attorney General, together with complete data or arguments with reference to the matter for action of the board thereon; provided, however, that the board may initiate and discuss at any called meeting of the board new rulings and decisions as may in its judgment be necessary with a view to making any amendment or such recommendations as may, in the judgment of the board, be proper in the premises.

When there is disagreement with the rulings, decisions, or acts of the Division of Architecture, whether with reference to matters having to do with routine approval of plans and specifications, with specific approval or lack of approval of which a new ruling or regulation or an amendment to an existing ruling or regulation is desired regarding any construction material, type of construction, or building, appeal may be made to the Division of Architecture for submission to the Advisory Board and such appeal may be addressed directly to the chairman of the board. The Attorney of Architecture will forward such appeal, together with accompanying data, promptly to the board who shall examine and discuss all matters referred to it, whether through the Division of Architecture or by the chairman of the board, together with the arguments or other documents submitted in connection therewith. The board may make such recommendations to the Division of Architecture with reference thereto as in the board may seem advisable.

Communication.

The following communication was received, and entirely printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR.
 STATE CAPITAL, SACRAMENTO, May 3, 1937.

Mr. Joseph Beck, Secretary of the Senate.

Senate Chamber, Sacramento, California.

DEAR MR. BECK: I am enclosing herewith a calling card of record submitted by the Advisory Pardon Board of which I am chairman, printed in the Journal of California and the members of the Legislature.

The inclosure covers the board's activities for the period 1936 and 1937 and is being forwarded for the consideration of the Senate. Sincerely and gratefully to the Senate Daily Journal.

Respectfully,

GEORGE J. HATFIELD.

Governor and Chairman, Advisory Pardon Board.

STATE CAPITAL, SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 29, 1937.

To His Excellency, Frank P. McLaughlin,

Governor of California, Sacramento, California, and Members of the California Legislature.

Fiftieth Second Session Assembly.

With the thought in mind that some non-partisan officials as well as the public generally, would be interested in a concise summary of the activities of the Advisory Pardon Board for the period 1936 and 1937, the same is offered in the following for your earnest attention and consideration.

By an act known as Chapter 260, the Advisory Pardon Board was created at the 1915 session of the Legislature. The purpose of the board is now extended as set forth in section 3 of the act.

" * * * Upon request of the Governor the board shall investigate and report on all applications for pardons, paroles and commutations of sentence and shall make such recommendations to the Governor with reference thereto as to it may seem advisable. * * *

In other words, the board presents only an advisory report to the Governor on applications for executive clemency that he may take as a recommendation and recommendation. In view of this fact the Governor is at liberty to ignore or observe the board's recommendations. However, it has been the precedent in the past for the Chief Executives to consistently follow out the views expressed by the board.

Membership.

By the act passed in 1915, and subsequent legislation in 1925, the Advisory Pardon Board is composed of the Lieutenant Governor (who shall be the chairman), the Attorney General, the Wardens of San Quentin and Folsom Prisons and the Chief of the State Division of Criminal Investigation and Investigation.

There is a proviso that in the event the Lieutenant Governor is absent or unable to perform the duties as chairman, the President Pro Tempore of the State Senate shall act in his place.

The board is given the power to appoint a secretary whose duty it is to record all applications referred and to keep a memorandum of the action taken by the board on each application, as well as other such data that may be requested of him by the board.

Cases Referred.

During the year 1935 the Governor's office referred to the Advisory Pardon Board for consideration, investigation and recommendation one hundred thirty (130) applications for executive clemency in the form of pardon, pardon or commutation of sentence, commutation of sentence and restoration of citizenship.

For the year 1936, ninety-eight (98) applications for executive clemency were referred by the Governor's office to the board; or a total of two hundred twenty-eight (228) applications received for consideration and recommendation.

Narrative Compiled.

On each case that is referred to the board, it is the secretary's duty to see that a narrative is prepared on same which sets forth complete facts and information covering the name of applicant applying for executive clemency, the crime for which he was convicted or plead guilty, a full statement of the crime. Also included are letters of recommendation from the judge before whom applicant was sentenced, the prosecuting attorney and the State Parole Officer in the event it is a case where the subject is serving or has served on parole. So that the board members may be informed as to the applicant's conduct and activities since the date of release from prison, certain data covering employment and other information is requested. Where the applicant is confined at either San Quentin or Folsom Prisons, or in the event a female prisoner at the California Institution for Women at Tehachapi, a "Certificate of Conduct" is always requested, properly signed by the warden of the respective prison.

With the completed narrative, setting forth all pertinent facts, information, letters, statements, affidavits, and recommendations from officials connected with the applicant since incarceration and thereafter, it will be easily realized that the board members find it convenient to give careful and thorough consideration to the application before making a recommendation thereon.

Where Applicants Claim Innocence.

On eight applications for executive clemency of the total number referred to the board for the two-year period, the applicants have stressed their absolute innocence relative to the crimes for which they were seeking clemency relief. It being the sincere desire of the board that a most thorough investigation be made into the applicants' claims, the State Division of Criminal Identification and Investigation was authorized and empowered by the Advisory Pardon Board to make such number of investigations as above set forth. This practice has proved very satisfactory and helpful to the members in making an intelligent recommendation to the Governor.

In this connection, the board, after the last session of the Legislature, secured from the Director of Finance an emergency appropriation to enable it to properly care for the expenses incurred by the division in carrying out said investigations.

The appropriation for support of the Advisory Pardon Board for the next biennial period commencing July 1, 1937, sets aside a certain amount to continue the above-mentioned procedure. It is sincerely hoped that this allotment may be allowed to remain in the board support as already approved by the State Department of Finance.

Activity.

It has been the desire and aim of the board during the last two years (1935 and 1936) to hold a meeting once a month at which time a number of applications would come up for consideration. It is a pleasure to report that twenty-three (23) meetings have been held during the 24 months' period; 12 of which were held in Sacramento in harmony with the law which specifies that the board shall meet at the State Capitol at least once in every two months. Seven meetings were held in San Francisco, four held in Los Angeles.

During this period the Advisory Pardon Board recommended FAVORABLY to the Governor that he grant executive clemency in the form of pardons and commutations of sentence to time served on fifty-four (54) applications which had been previously referred by the Governor.

During the same period, one hundred fifty four (154) applications for pardon, pardon or commutation of sentence, restoration of citizenship, and commutation of sentence were given UNFAVORABLE recommendations by the board. In other words, it was the recommendation to the Governor that executive clemency be denied these applicants.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 31. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore take effect immediately.

The facts constituting the necessity are the dangers to the State and to the people involved in the unusually large number of foreclosures, sales, forfeitures and terminations which will result in the near future under mortgages, deeds of trust, and contracts of purchase of real property, or upon chattels attached to real property, because of defaults in payments by the owners or purchasers of such property. Such defaults are the result of exceptionally depressed conditions in this State, which have deprived a large proportion of the landowners and land purchasers of sufficient income to meet their obligations. The dangers in the situation are such as to threaten the maintenance of law and order, and to tend to the perpetuation of many persons who have hitherto constituted an important part of the self-supporting and economically independent people of this State. This act will provide a means for delaying such sales, foreclosures, terminations and forfeitures so as to permit landowners and land purchasers to find means of meeting their obligations, and at the same time will protect the interests of creditors. The dangers mentioned will thus be avoided.

Assembly Bill No. 2840—An act to prohibit under certain conditions, sales under certain chattel mortgages, to extend the statute of limitations upon such obligations, to make voidable at the instance of the owner any sale made in violation of the act, to prescribe the time within which an action to avoid such a sale may be brought, and to declare the urgency thereof, and to provide that this act take effect immediately.

Bill read third time.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 7. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore be of immediate effect.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows: A severe economic depression has long existed and now exists throughout the State, rendering many of its citizens unable to pay the principal sum of their indebtedness to advertising business concerns. As a result thereof, through foreclosure actions, they are being divested of their property. The provisions of the real property mortgage foreclosure statute are being evaded by persons who in addition to the security afforded by real estate mortgages and deeds of trust on real estate, the said charged mortgagors to secure the same obligation. Consequently the evil sought to be corrected by statutes relating to foreclosure on mortgages and deeds of trusts on real estate can not be completely effective unless the situation covered by this act is remedied.

Communication.

The following communication was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL,

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, May 3, 1937.

Honorable Ralph E. Swing,

Senate Chamber, State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

Subject: PASSAGE OF APPROPRIATION BILLS PRIOR TO FINAL ENACTMENT OF BUDGET.

Request: No. 8522.

DEAR SENATOR SWING: You asked when will the Budget Bill have been "finally enacted" as that term is used in the provision of section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution which reads as follows:

"Until the Budget Bill has been finally enacted, neither house shall place upon final passage any other appropriation bill, except emergency bills recommended by the Governor. • • •"

It is our opinion that the term "finally enacted," as used in this section of the Constitution, means the time at which the Budget Bill, and every part thereof, becomes law. Thus, if the Governor signs the Budget Bill without amendments, it is finally enacted at the time of such signature. If he fails to sign the bill and does not return it to the Legislature within ten days, as provided in section 16 of Article IV, it is finally enacted at the end of such period (Bennett Trust vs. Senate Speaker, 113 Pac. 863).

If, however, he signs the bill, but, as is provided by section 34 of Article IV, he reduces or eliminates any one or more items of appropriation of money while approving other portions of the bill, we believe that the Budget Bill is not finally enacted until such time as the Legislature sustains or overrules his action with reference to these items.

It has been suggested that the Budget Bill is finally enacted when it has passed both houses of the Legislature. A careful consideration of the language of section 34 of Article IV leads us to the conclusion that this is not the case. Possibly the basis for the suggestion lies in the statement in the budget pamphlet of 1922 that this section is based on the budget provisions of the Maryland Constitution. The Constitution in that State expressly provides that the Budget Bill becomes law when it has passed both houses without further action by the Governor. A comparison of the provisions of our Constitution with that of Maryland clearly indicates that this feature of the Maryland Constitution was discarded by the authors of section 34 of Article IV. Section 34 contemplates that the Budget Bill will be signed by the Governor, that he may reduce or eliminate items of appropriation therein, and that the procedure with respect to his amendments therein shall be in every respect the same as in the case of any other bill.

The generally accepted definition of "enacted," with reference to the making of a law means, under almost all conceivable conditions, the exercise of the legislative power bringing the law into existence. An examination of our Constitution of this State indicates that the word as used in that sense throughout the document.

There are numerous cases, including Lohme vs. Nye, 156 Cal. 438, to the effect that the consideration of bills by the Governor is in his legislative capacity, that for such purpose he is part of the legislative department, and that in such consideration whether it be signing the bill, adding to or subtracting from the law without his signature, his action is a part of the legislative process. Such an interpretation is entirely consistent with both the letter and the spirit of section 34 of Article IV. We believe, therefore, that the Budget Bill can not properly be termed finally enacted until it is signed by the Governor.

A more difficult question is presented if the Governor signs the Budget Bill but reduces or eliminates any one or more of the items of appropriation therein. We have been unable to find a case in this State or other States which is exactly in point, and are, therefore, obliged to draw our conclusions from the language contained in section 34 of Article IV.

If "enacted" means the exercise of the legislative power bringing a law into existence, obviously a bill which is voted in toto is not finally enacted until the Legislature overrides the veto. So in the case of the reduction or elimination of an item of appropriation, the "legislative process" is not complete until reference to that bill until the Legislature (a) sustains the action of the Governor, (b) overrides his action, or (c) acquiesces in his action by adjourning without acting with reference thereto.

This interpretation is further strengthened by consideration of the purpose of the budget amendment as adopted in 1922. The intention was to vest in the Governor a high degree of control over the expenditures of the State. To accomplish this purpose, it was necessary to grant him a substantial amount of power over legislation involving appropriations. In Wood vs. Brien, 192 Cal. 273, at page 298, the court said:

"So far as his (the Governor's) control over the expenditures of the State is concerned, the recent amendment to the Constitution providing for an 'executive budget' has tremendously increased and widened his powers, which was undoubtedly the primal object of the people in voting for its adoption."

In furtherance of this end, and in addition to the power granted to the Governor to reduce or eliminate items of appropriation, it was provided that until the Budget Bill has been finally enacted. The purpose of this provision is obvious, and the reason for it continues to exist until the Legislature has acted upon any item which has been reduced or eliminated. A different interpretation might lead to a situation where the Governor, after reducing an item for a certain purpose, and before the Legislature had acted on the reduction, might have presented to him a special appropriation bill for the same purpose. However willing he might be to sign such a bill, he could not know whether the Legislature might subsequently override his action on the budget item, thus providing an excessive amount for the particular purpose. Likewise, individual legislators might well hesitate to vote upon such a bill until the action on the Budget Bill had become final.

"neither house shall place upon final passage any other appropriation bill, except emergency bills recommended by the Governor"

It is our opinion, therefore, that the Budget Bill is not "finally enacted" until the legislative process is complete with respect to every part thereof and that no further action with reference thereto is possible either by the Governor or the Legislature.

We have examined the Histories and Journals of the various sessions of the Legislature since 1922, when section 34 of Article IV was amended to read as it does now, to determine what legislative precedents exist. In 1923, and again in 1929, the Budget Bill was signed by the Governor and one or more items therein reduced or eliminated.

In 1923, the Governor's message with respect to these items was delivered to the Assembly on May 7th, and his action in connection therewith sustained on May 8th. The Journal indicates that only two bills containing appropriations, Assembly Bills 1362 and 1363, were passed during this period. Later in the session both of these bills were passed by the Senate. Both bills were pocket vetoed by Governor Richardson.

In 1929, the message with reference to the Governor's action was received by the Assembly on Friday, April 5th, and his action was sustained on the next legislative day, Monday, April 8th. The only appropriation bill passed during the interval was Senate Bill No. 195 which later passed the Assembly. This bill was pocket vetoed by Governor Young. These bills were not accompanied by "emergency letters" from the Governor authorizing their passage prior to the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

Inasmuch as the bills in question were pocket vetoed, there is, of course, no record as to the reason for the veto.

We are unable to state whether or not this action upon the only appropriation bills we have been able to find which have been placed upon final passage in either house during such a period is a coincidence or whether it indicates that at least two Governors of this State have placed the same interpretation on this provision of section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution as is set forth by us in this letter.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel.
By LAWRENCE G. ALLYN, Deputy.

11540.11. This chapter is not intended to apply to contracts for the rendition of specific medical services which contracts arise only as the need for such services becomes apparent, and is not intended to interfere with the normal practice of medicine nor is it intended to apply to duly organized and existing employees' hospital associations or the hospital departments of any employer which are maintained in whole or in part by contributions from such employer and their employees.

11540.12. This chapter is intended to govern all contracts between physicians and surgeons and other persons, which provide that for certain regular sums, or for a stated sum for a stipulated period the physician and surgeon or association of physicians and surgeons will furnish all medical and surgical services, including hospitalization and nursing, which may be required by a beneficiary of the contract, irrespective of the actual value of the services furnished.

11540.14. As used in this chapter the word "insured" means one who is insured by an insurer for or in any way participating in the insurance authorized by this chapter, whether formed a partnership, firm, association or corporation.

11540.15. As used in this chapter the word "insurer" means any and all physicians and surgeons or associations of physicians and surgeons, acting or entering into contracts for voluntary health service insurance, or transacting business under such contracts, as defined in this chapter.

11540.16. This chapter shall be liberally construed to effect its purposes which are to permit the establishment of voluntary health service insurance to enable the people of California to obtain adequate health service from physicians, surgeons and hospitals on a monthly basis, to enable them to obtain for the practice of a high standard of professional service and the maintenance of a high standard of professional ethics, and to provide sufficient guarantee of financial responsibility to assure adequate rendition of such services.

ARTICLE 2. Formation and Operation.

11540.26. The commissioner shall not approve any policy for voluntary health service insurance or grant a certificate of authority to any applicant unless the policy sets forth all of the following:

result in the maintenance of a larger reserve. In no event may an insurer be required to maintain both reserves.

If the application conforms to the requirements of this chapter, and the commissioner is satisfied with the method to be used to insure the maintenance of the reserves required by this chapter, the commissioner shall issue to the applicant a certificate of authority to transact voluntary health service insurance pursuant to this chapter.

Article 3. Regulations.

11540.30. An insurer shall not enter into any insurance contract or agreement pursuant to this chapter unless the insurer meets the requirements of this chapter and unless the form of the policy has been approved by the commissioner.

11540.301. An insurer shall not issue any policy at a premium rate which deviates from the rate fixed for that type of policy by the schedule of rates filed with and approved by the commissioner.

11540.302. If after hearing, either upon application, or upon his own motion, the commissioner finds that the premium rates for any type of policy issued by the insurer is inadequate or excessive, he may modify the schedule of premium rates accordingly, and thereafter a policy shall not be issued, renewed, or carried beyond the next anniversary date thereof at rates which do not conform to the rate fixed by the commissioner.

11540.303. Premium rates are inadequate if the annual report of the insurer indicates:

(a) That the rates are insufficient to provide the reserves required by this chapter, in addition to the expenses of operation of the insurer, and

(b) That the insurer has operated at a loss for the period covered by the annual statement.

11540.31. Any insurer rendering services pursuant to this chapter shall do so only through regularly licensed hospitals, institutions, or services, if such hospitals, institutions, or services are required to be licensed by this State, or any political subdivision thereof, and if the person with whom the contract is entered into, is entitled to personal services, such services may only be provided through a person regularly licensed to render such services if the licensing thereof is required by the State, or a political subdivision thereof.

11540.32. The commissioner shall prescribe, maintain and enforce such rules and regulations for the rendition of service pursuant to this chapter which are appropriate adequately to safeguard the beneficiaries of such service. These rules and regulations shall contain a high basic standard for professional services and shall include provisions to assure that the number of physicians and surgeons furnishing the services shall be in such ratio to the number of beneficiaries as is adequate to provide expedient service.

11540.325. If the policy issued by the insurer is for the benefit of a group of persons, it shall so state, and individual policies or certificates need not be issued to the persons for whose benefit the policy is issued.

11540.33. Each insurer authorized to insure pursuant to this chapter shall maintain the following reserves:

(a) At all times in each calendar month there shall be maintained as a stability reserve, a sum equal to fifty per centum of the premiums received by reason of insurance for the next preceding calendar month.

(b) At all times there shall be maintained a sum equal to one hundred per centum of all unearned or advance premiums which have been received. When these premiums are no longer unearned premiums, they shall be subject to the provisions of subdivision (a) of this section. The reserve shall be computed as provided by this section only if the computation thereof will result in the maintenance of a larger reserve than is required by section 1154027.

1154034. To insure the maintenance of the reserves provided by this chapter the commissioner may require that a sum equal to said reserves be deposited in a bank or trust company of his selection subject to such conditions as he may deem proper.

1154035. In lieu of the requirements of section 1154034 the commissioner may accept a bond in favor of the commissioner as trustee for the beneficiaries of policies issued by the insurer.

1154036. The bond shall be executed by the insurer and some admitted insurer approved by the commissioner.

1154037. The commissioner shall fix the amount of the bond and he may, whenever he finds that the bond or bonds on file are insufficient to cover the liability of the insurer, require the filing of an additional bond.

1154038. Subject to the provisions governing the payment of a bond furnished pursuant to this article the commissioner may accept in lieu of a bond, a deposit with the State Treasurer of cash or securities of a value adequate to meet these reserve requirements. The deposit shall be in the name of the commissioner as trustee for the beneficiaries of the policies issued.

1154039. In the event the insurer fails, not a period of more than 10 days, or arrange for the meeting of its contractual obligations the commissioner may expend such portions of the impounded deposit, or the amount with the State Treasurer, as may be necessary to discharge the obligations of the insurer to any insured on all outstanding policies. The balance, if any, shall be refunded to the insurer.

1154040. If a surety bond has been filed with the commissioner he has, of the impounded deposit the commissioner shall proceed to enforce the obligation of the surety to the extent necessary to discharge the policy obligations of the insurer.

1154041. Each insurer licensed pursuant to this chapter shall, with respect to professional and ethical standards, be subject to the supervision of the agency of this State having jurisdiction to supervise or regulate any type of professional service rendered by the insurer pursuant to this chapter.

1154042. A member of a voluntary health service insurer and its agents and employees shall not engage, as individuals, or otherwise, in solicitation for patients or for beneficiaries under voluntary health service insurance policies and shall not in any manner advertise either their professional qualifications, or their membership in such insurer.

1154043. If any agency of this State revokes or suspends the professional license of any person whose name appears on the certificate for, or the certificate of authority, it shall notify the commissioner of such suspension or revocation and the commissioner shall immediately revoke or suspend the certificate of authority as to that person until his professional license is restored or reinstated.

Article 4. Reports.

1154044. Each insurer shall file with the commissioner monthly reports setting forth such information as the commissioner may require, including the number of outstanding contracts of insurance, the duration of each such contract and the premiums payable monthly or semi-monthly thereunder.

1154045. On or before the first Monday in March of each year the insurer shall file an annual report in the form required by the commissioner setting forth:

- (a) The number of contracts of each type and effect.
- (b) A statement of the services actually rendered under contracts during the previous year.
- (c) A financial statement for the previous year showing the profit resulting from contracts pursuant to this chapter.

The board shall:

- (a) Be the adviser to the commissioner with respect to the standards of medical or other related services to be furnished under this chapter.

Article 6. Review.

11540.60. Any person adversely affected by any decision, ruling or action of the commissioner pursuant to this chapter shall have the right to ask for a rehearing of such decision, ruling or action.

11540.61. Upon application being made to him for such a rehearing, the commissioner shall fix a time and place for hearing, which shall not be less than twenty nor more than thirty days after filing of the petition for rehearing.

11540.62. A record shall be made of all proceedings at the hearing and the commissioner shall make a finding of facts upon which he bases his decision, ruling or action, and under his order thereon.

Article 8. Miscellaneous.

11540.80. This chapter shall not authorize any person to contract for the rendition of the services authorized hereby unless such person, at the time of contracting, holds an unrevoked license to practice medicine and surgery or a physician and surgeon certificate in this State.

11540.81. This chapter shall not affect any workmen's compensation or employers' liability law in this State, nor nonprofit hospital associations or hospital departments any of which are chiefly maintained by dues or contributions from employees of a common employer or of a group of affiliated employers, the services of which are confined to such employees, their dependents and members of their families and persons disabled in or by reason of the operations of the employer or group of employers.

Urgency Clause.

Sec. 12. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary to the preservation of the public peace, health and safety under the provisions of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of this State and shall therefore take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity:

The moneys in the insurance fund in the State treasury are almost expended. The expense of supervision and regulation of insurers doing business in this State and of compiling the report of taxable gross premiums thereof is paid out of this fund by means of statutory appropriations therefrom. Unless additional revenues are made available for the replenishment of this fund, such supervision, regulation and compilation will be hampered, and a breakdown of this vital function of State administration is thereby threatened. This act, by increasing the fees payable into such fund, will tend to avert such a threatened breakdown and will thereby enable the State to continue to efficiently supervise and regulate the insurance business therein. As a failure of such supervision and regulation to efficiently function might result in tremendous losses to the people of this State, it is therefore necessary to the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety that this act take effect immediately.
